Whenever the commission after investigation and study shall have concluded plans with estimates of cost and means of financing any new toll bridge across the Delaware River as hereinbefore provided it shall make to the Legislatures of each State at the next sessions thereof a detailed report dealing with the contemplated project [and it shall not be within the power of the commission to construct or erect any such toll bridge until the Legislatures of both States have authorized the commission to proceed with the project outlined in its special report] but such project may nevertheless be proceeded with if the Legislature of said States or either of them are not in session

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution reported yesterday from the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 1, 1933.

Students in some class or department at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, an outstanding institution of learning in the Nation, have voted, by a substantial majority, that they will "under no circumstances bear arms or go to war." This appears from an editorial in the Philadelphia Record of Wednesday, April 26, 1933. Said editorial in part is as follows, to wit:

> "Penn students have voted, 322 to 222, that they will 'under no circumstances bear arms or go to war.'"

Without qualifications of any kind they admit willingness to see the Nation that has furnished them with the advantages and opportunities they now enjoy, overrun and destroyed by enemies.

They renounce any obligation to defend the parents who gave them existence, or keep safe and inviolate the homes in which they were reared.

They have freely received all they now possess because of the patriotism, bravery, courage and unselfishness of those who thought less of self and more of service to others; and their lives have been made secure through the heroic sacrifices of those in whose veins flowed no yellow blood and who knew no fear.

We hesitate to believe that so many of the future citizens of this Nation would so easily admit a cowardice and a lack of patriotism that is both astounding and degrading, but prefer to believe that the vote was only an expression of immature and childlike judgment.

The public expression of these students should not, however, go unnoticed, and if any among those who voted that in "no case" would they bear arms, are now beneficiaries of the Commonwealth to whom they have publicly renounced allegiance then such benefits should be withdrawn and bestowed upon other more appreciative of the benefits of government and more willing to defend it when endangered, therefore be it

Resolved, That an effort be made at once by the proper officials of the University of Pennsylvania to ascertain if any of those who voted against the honorable defense of home and country are now enjoying a scholarship in that institution through the benevolence of the Commonwealth, and, if any are so found, that the Senator who awarded such scholarship shall forthwith recall the same and award it to one more worthy, and be it

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be at once forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, with the request that the Senate be furnished with the names of those who denied home and country by voting against the defense of either, and be it further

Resolved, That immediately upon the receipt of any information containing the names of these students so voting, that the Secretary of the Senate advise the Senators at whose request such scholarships were awarded, and that thereafter the scholarships of such non-patriots shall be withdrawn by such senators.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, in explanation of that resolution I would like to state to the members of the Senate that the resolution was inspired by an editorial in the Philadelphia Record of April 26th. I happened to see that editorial No one suggested that I offer the resolution other than my own reaction to it. Now I am quite aware that there may be a question as to whether it would be in the power of the members of the Senate to recall a scholarship or threaten to do anything we can. I understand from year to year that there are four scholarships. If we had to cut down in the scholarships, we could easily do so. I have no complaint against the University of Pennsylvania. I have the highest regard for it. I am not one who on every little occasion raises a cry against the fellow who make a little demonstration. But that action was so hostile to my sentiments that I presented the resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the University of Pennsylvania has thousands of students. The action of a few hundred students based on immature and childlike judgment, as described by Senator Williamson, is not entitled to receive consideration here. I think the best way would be to inquire into the matter. I should hate to withdraw a scholarship from a student who has expressed an opinion that is childlike. If it was my son, I should have rather taken him home and punishel him in the way he deserved. I hope the Senate will vote the resolution down.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I hold no brief for the young man who is old enough to attend college and votes against the defense of his country. I understand, however, that this resolution was very properly inspired in the breast of Senator Williamson by reason of an editorial in a Philadelphia paper which grew out of a statement in a college paper published by the University of Pennsylvania in reference to some question submitted to a very small group of students. It does not record the vote, and I doubt whether any record can be obtained as to the question that was submitted to the students; and I regret very much that any publicity was given to the matter. I do not believe that the circumstances warrant the adoption of this resolution. There are about seventeen thousand students in the University of Pennsylvania, and according to this editorial, which may or may not be based on facts, it seems to me it would be very severe punishment to the University of Pennsylvania to have it held up before the nation as fostering and maintaining a body of slackers. I do not believe that is the situation, and I hope that the Senators, in their wisdom, will not pass snap judgment on the matter and adopt this resolution. I believe it should be voted down and ignored.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, the only purpose of this resolution is to give notice in the future to prospective students of the four State institutions to which scholarships are allotted to the members of the Senate To my mind, the Senators make a grievous mistake in not correcting any statement in any one of the State institutions to which we are allotted scholarships of such action as was taken; and there may be some Senators here who could be counted in the credit given of a majority of two hundred and twenty-two of three hundred and twenty-two. There is no reflection on the institution that unquestionably has students in that proportion who will vote as happens to be recorded in this particular case. Now, as I said a moment ago, I am not sure that we can recall a scholarship given to a student who will do that sort of stunt, but I am quite aware that any Senator here would not appoint any individual to any State institution where he is given the privilege of placing a scholarship where there is that extremely low development; and it will cretainly be noted in the future by students who enjoy scholarships at any of the four institutions by virtue of appointment that they will have to be careful on which side of that line they will be when a patriotic question comes up like that. I do not see why it would not be a reflection on this body to vote down this resolution. I am sure the Senators who spoke in favor of voting down this resolution—if they want to talk on that side, it is their affair; but I do not believe a majority of the Senate want to register that sentiment, they do not want to go on record on a question like this. We want to give notice to the young people of Pennsylvania who hold such unpatriotic ideas that in the halls of the Legislature it has been determined that they will not enjoy scholarships in the future. I hope the Senate will adopt the resolution by an explicit majority.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, the attitude expressed in the action of those students is absolutely incompatible with decent citizenship. I am connected with an institution of learning, and I can tell you that ultra-pacifist propaganda is being spread from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. There is such a document in circulation at Dickinson College now. I do not know whether the students have voted on it or not. But I think such action should be rebuked by this body, and I can imagine no better source from which such a rebuke could come. I would not give a scholarship to any man who would take such a position, and I would recall if from anyone who has one now. I suggest that Senators in awarding a scholarship make it a pre-condition that the recipient shall promise to honor and obey the Constitution of the United States, as officeholders are required to do. I am thoroughly in sympathy with Senator Williamson's resolution, and hope it will be unanimously passed.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, this to me is a very interesting matter, for the simple reason that I am interested in various universities of the State, and I am entirely in sympathy with the resolution. But, in spite of the fact that these young people in the University of Pennsylvania made a mistake, I think any action that we might take here would be a slap at the institution rather than at the young people who took the action in the first place. I must say that I agree with Senator Prince, that perhaps this is the beginning in this country of a long line of similar activities by those who are not in sympathy with the principles of our institutions and are given the freedom to make such motions. I think we heard with much chagrin that the same thing had been done in the University of Pennsylvania. These young people in these various institutions thought the time had come when they should express themselves on a proposition which they never realized would work out in the way it did. You know when a young man says he will not go to war for America he is saying something he does not understand and in the future will very much regret. On the other hand, since we have permitted our institutions which the State helps to support unconsciously to permit their students to speak so freely, not only on subjects with regard to patriotism, but on questions of morality or what not, I share the opinion that it is the institution that would suffer the most. While I think it is a shame that we have students in some of our institutions who have seen fit to pass their judgment on a matter of this kind, I want to call attention to the fact that it is my humble belief that under no circumstance could it be attributed to the institution whatever, and to the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, I respectfully submit that the authorities would not be in a position to find out just who voted one way or the other; and I want to caution the members of the Senate, if we take appropriate action here, that we are not so much giveng notice to the young people who tell us that they will not go to war, but we are hitting at the institution. They do not mean it, they do not understand the gravity of that situation. I know mighty well if those of us in college years ago had been called upon by some leaders in our organization or fraternity life a vote like that might have been passed, and we never would have thought of the gravity of the situation or the possiblity of the scholarship being revoked. I believe that every student at the University of Pennsylvania who voted in the affirmative on that proposition is still patriotic, and if the time should come he will rally to the arms of the United States and the protection of his country. I do not want by my vote, if those young men did not understand the situation, and that they would be attracting atention, and as was said by one of the Senators it might attract nation-wide attention and put a blot on the State of Pennsylvania—not because I am not in sympathy with the resolution, but because I believe it can be worked out as a practical matter; and secondly because we must not insist on drastic action when we realize the unfortunate circumstances which would result.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, is the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Snyder, through?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I will yield for the moment. I would like to move that the resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, before that is done I would like to interrogate the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, what he knows about the case other than the editorial from the newspaper, which was taken from the college paper?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, well, I would say to Senator Buckman that when I read a half column editorial in the well known Philadelphia Record—I know it to be a reliable paper— I naturally thought that I had certainly good ground for getting up this resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, whether he believes every thing he reads in the newspapers?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I have no information in respect to the matter. My only information was from reading what was published by a reputable newspaper of an incident that occurred in an institution in the city where this paper was published. I have not any reason to doubt the truth of those statements. In other words, I know the Philadelphia Record would not have published this editorial unless they verified the facts stated in the editorial.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that just yesterday the papers accused me of being a millionaire.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I hope it is quite true.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, whether he talked to any official of the University about it?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, absolutely not.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, would the Senator from Huntingdon, Mr. Williamson, be willing to lay the resolution on the table until we can communicate with the officials of the Institution?

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, we are going to adjourn this week.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, today or tomorrow.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be laid upon the table.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I am perfectly willing to let it go over until tomorrow, therefore, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BENNETT, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, the following resolution:

OBSERVING JUNE 14 AS FLAG DAY

In the Senate, May 2, 1933.

For many years patriotic citizens and various organizations have been observing June 14th as Flag Day because, on that day, in the year 1777, the Congress of the United States, by resolution, enacted that "the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternating red and white, and that the Union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

The holding of meetings and exercises at which love of flag and country are emphasized in addresses tend to inculcate into the minds and hearts of future citizens a sincere devotion to our flag and the country for which it stands. Th e Nation cannot long endure without a true regard and respect for our flag and the law it symbolizes which is the basis of true patriotism. The history of the origin, development and meaning of the flag, of what it stands for and what it typifies should be taught to the youth of the Nation, and it is the first duty of this Legislature to assist in making such teaching possible in our schools; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That this Legislature recommends to the Superintendent of Public Instruction the property and advisability of holding in every public school in the Commonwealth of flag exercises on an appropriate day in each year to be selected by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

That it is further suggested the Department of Public Instruction, with the idea of developing in each pupil in the public school a proper realization of the meaning of our flag and an idealization of all it symbolizes, shall suggest to the teachers of the various public schools of the Commonwealth the holding of proper exercises on the day so selected and assist such teachers in the preparation of programs therefor, best suited to their respective grades; and

That a copy of this resolution be forthwith forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1508 (House Bill No. 755), entitled:

An Act authorizing school districts with the approval of the court of common pleas to negotiate temporary emergency loans for certain purposes during the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and under certain circumstances to refund such loans annually for a certain period

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EALY, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1487 (House Bill No. 1903), entitled:

An Act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay writs of execution against any tax sales of certain real property in certain cases; providing for the continuance of return days of writs of execution; and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1481 (House Bill No. 1121), entitled:

An Act providing for the discharge or parole of persons serving imprisonment for failure to make restitution under sentence of any court.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, May 3, 1933

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Captain and Comrade in all the vicissitudes of life, we thank Thee for this new day. We take fresh courage this morning when we remember that Thou hast been our help in ages past, Thou art our hope for years to come. Forgive us our sins and self-enfeeblements!

These Ladies and Gentlemen, representatives of a great and sovereign people, chosen to be the eyes, ears and voice of the masses, in this deliberative body, need thy guidance, for each bears a great responsibility. "To each man is given a day, and his work for the day; And once, and no more, he is given to travel this way. And woe if he flees from the task, whatever the odds; for the task is appointed to him on the scroll of the gods." Knowing this, help us all to be strong, although the days may be evil, help us not to complain or seek one to blame. Help us to stand up, speak out, and bravely in Thy name.

This is our task! Help us not to fail. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Hewitt, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

HONORABLE C. I. LAUDENSLAYER PRESENTED TO THE HOUSE

The SPEAKER. A distinguished honor is being conferred upon this House of Representatives this morning. We have in our midst a former member of the Legislature who served under the administration of Governor John F. Hartranft in 1875 and 1876. I request the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Schrope, to escort the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. C. I. Laudenslayer to the rostrum.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Laudenslayer, as Speaker of this House, it affords me much pleasure to greet you and to present you to the House of Representatives and the Chair requests that you say a few words to this body.

Mr. LAUDENSLAYER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want to take up your valuable time, since you are now in the closing days of this session, which are generally very busy days and fraught with the consideration of many important matters yet to be acted upon.

I was a member of the House of Representatives in the years of 1875 and 1876, and as far as I am able to learn, I am the only surviving member of that House, which in a body on the tenth day of May, 1876, attended the opening of the Centennial exhibition in the City of Philadelphia. I was the youngest member of the House.

This was the first Legislature under the present Constitution of the State. Many changes have taken place since that time and it was mostly concerned with the passage of laws to carry in effect the provisions of the Constitution. It was just about ten years after the close of the Civil War and a few years after the panic of 1873 and just a few years before the time set for the resumption of specie payments on January 1st, 1879. That noble General John J. Hartranft was Governor of the State of Pennsylvania at that time. The House was controlled by the Democrats, and I want to warn you Republicans to watch your step or the same thing may occur again.

Many changes have taken place, the population has increased, new departments of government have been organized. The State Capitol in which we held our meetings has been replaced by this beautiful building, second to none in the United States. Expenses have increased so that now the general appropriation bill has been raised from about eight to ten millions for a biennium to over one hundred millions and taxes have been increased. The depression has come and we all feel its effects. Millions are out of employment, relief is badly needed and this is what you have been struggling about during this session; 3.2 per cent. beer has come back. I have nothing to dictate and have no authority to recommend anything, but I believe that you have endeavored to legislate for the best interests of this great Commonwealth as a whole and what remains to be done will be done in the same spirit and that you will make ample provisions for those who have been so unfortunate through no fault of their own to be out of employment and without means of self-support, so that in the end no man, woman or child in this great industrial and agricultural State of Pennsylvania may go hungry.

Horse-drawn vehicles have given way to electrical power, the motor car and motor bus. The Eighteenth Amendment has been added to the Federal Constitution which together with the Volstead Act has been on trial for thirteen years and now 3.2 beer by weight has been made legal and efforts are made to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment. The Sunday laws which were in force for over one hundred years have been somwhat changed, the wisdom of which the future will have to reveal. We had times of prosperity and times of adversity and now we are under the greatest depression the world has ever known.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, in the name of the members of this House, thanks the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Laudenslayer, for honoring us with his presence, and the Chair requests that he occupy the seat of the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Scott.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks of the distinguished gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Laudenslayer, be spread at large upon the Legislative Journal.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McCREARY. HOUSE BILL No. 2397.

An Act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay and adjourn the execution of certain writs in the hand of sheriffs; ratifying, conforming and validating the actions of courts in staying and adjourning the execution of such writs, and of sheriffs in obeying orders and decrees of courts in accordance with a resolution of the General Assembly; and dispensing with the necessity of re-advertising and re-posting such writs.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

STATEMENT BY MR. HOOPES

Mr. HOOPES asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to make a brief statement on the amendment I had desired to present this morning and which was shut off by the motion for the previous question, and thereby explain my reason for demanding a roll call and a verification of the roll on both questions.

The amendment which I desired to offer this morning was one to fix a special order of business for consideration of the discharge of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation from further consideration of House Bill No. 132, which is the women's and childrens' forty-four hour week bill.

This House last week refused by a vote of one hundred and fifty-six to eighteen to refer to a committee a resolution endorsing in principle the forty-four hour week for women and minors and then adopted the resolution itself unanimously.

I am informed that the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation has definitely postponed consideration of that bill. At any rate it has not been reported to this House and has been before the committee since January 11, a period of nearly four months.

Our Federal Government is seriously considering the matter of a thirty hour week for men. It does seem to me that this House could afford to openly consider the question of reducing womens' working hours from fifty-four to forty-four. I don't think it would hurt us to at least consider it.

It is a well known fact that this State is becoming the refuge of labor-exploiting employers, sweatshops operators from other states, who are coming into this State exploiting our women and children and paying them wages as low as thirty-five cents a day, conditions which are intolerable and indefensible in any civilized state. Yet by moving the previous question and imposing the gag rule and without allowing anybody to offer any amendment you have shut off even the possibility of considering a motion to discharge that committee from further consideration of that very important bill.

I recognize the right of the majority to rule. You have a right to do what you did, and if you want to do it yours is the responsibility for doing it; but I can see no excuse or justification for doing it at this time.

We have a very brief calendar before us; there are only thirteen bills on third reading and several of those are not filed. I can see no reason whatever why we could not take up a little time in considering a matter that is of such great importance to the women and children of this State, and for that matter, also, to the men of this State, because the unemployment problem is becoming worse by permitting women and children to be exploited in the manner in which they are being exploited. There is no excuse with two million men out of work in this State to permit women to work fifty-four hours and more per week.

I feel that the action of this House this morning in shutting off the debate and refusing even to consider amendments under the circumstances has no basis in justice or reason, and I take this opportunity of registering my protest against it.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. BECHTEL

Mr. BECHTEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I voted in the affirmative to adopt the report of the Committee on Rules. Had I known what Mr. Hoopes' purpose was at that time my vote would have been in the negative.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS Nos. 324 AND 1476

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 902 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. J. R. LYNCH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, May 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 902, Printer's No. 142, entitled "An act to amend the title and sections one and three of the act approved the fourteenth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (Pamphlet Laws, thirty-eight), entitled 'An act regulating the removal or dismissal of policemen and firemen in cities of the second class A,' extending the provisions of said act to cities of the second class," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

THANKING HARRISBURG FOR NOT ACCEPTING DAY LIGHT SAVING TIME

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 3, 1933.

Whereas, The people of the City of Harrisburg have wisely decided this year not to turn forward the hands of the clock and conduct business according to the so-called daylight saving time; and

Whereas, This action has resulted in a great accommodation and convenience to rural members of the Legislature who are attending the present session; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House extend its thanks to the people of Harrisburg for the decision which has materially added to the comfort of its members, and hereby express its appreciation of their thoughtfulness; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the council of the city of Harrisburg.

RESOLUTION

JOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE WAGES AND LABOR CONDITIONS OF CHILDREN IN COMMONWEALTH

Mr. GALLAGHER offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1933.

Whereas, It has been brought to the attention of the Legislature by the public press and by studies of the Department of Labor and Industry, that children are employed under intolerable conditions, and

Whereas, Such children are alleged to be earning as little as one dollar a week, and

Whereas, State and Federal relief funds are alleged to be used to subsidize the existence of sweatshops at the expense of the State and of other employers, and

Whereas, it appears that children who should be in school are taking the employment from adults charged with the responsibility of families, and

Whereas, It appears that the low rates of pay accepted by children are lowering wages for adults and that the manufacturing workers in Pennsylvania receive a lower average weekly earning than the same class of employes in any other Northern State except New Hampshire, and

Whereas, There is a great danger that more sweatshops will come into the State following the passage by New York, New Jersey and New Hampshire of minimum wage laws within the past month, therefore,

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker of the House appoint three members of the House to a special committee to make a study of this situation, that the President of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and that the Governor be requestd to appoint three members from the public at large, and that the Department of Labor and Industry be authorized to delegate representatives to aid in this study, and be it further

Resolved, That said special committee be instructed to report to the General Assembly at its next regular or special session, and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to include the subjects of child labor and minimum wage in any call he issues for any special session.

RESOLUTION No. 87

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 87, Printer's No. 1125.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas, Bills codifying and revising the law relating to the Insurance Department and insurance companies have been presented to this session of the legislature and there is not sufficient time for the Senate and House of Represntatives to complete studies of these codes so as to authorize their adoption at this session of the Legislature; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representativs appoint four members of the House who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to study House Bill Number nine hundred twenty-six known as the "Insurance Department Code" and House Bill Number one thousand four hundred known as the "Insurance Code" to prepare such corrections and amendments to said codes as may be deemed necessary and to re-submit said bills with its corrections and amendments to the legislative session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five

Resolved, That an item of two thousand dollars ($2,000) be inserted in the General Appropriation Bill to pay the expenses of the members of said committee

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that this resolution is not on the files of the members and will, therefore, be passed over.

STATEMENT BY MR. SCHWARTZ

Mr. SCHWARTZ asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Resolution No. 87 that you have not on your files aims to do this: The Insurance Committee has labored very hard on an Insurance Code and an Administrative Code. One of them contains three thousand and three sections and the other one contains fourteen hundred and three sections. Both of thes bills aim to regulate the Insurance Commission. The committee feels since this bill has only been presented to the committee on March 13th that it would be impossible for this committee to study such an insurance code. Therefore, it was agreed by the Insurance Committee to sponsor this resolution to appoint a committee to study the Insurance Code and report back at the next session.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia will be spread upon the Journal.

RULING BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that in the future Printer's Numbers will be put on the members' desks only in consecutive order.

RESOLUTION No. 88

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up Resolution No. 88, Printer's No. 1126.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 2, 1933.

Whereas bills have been presented at this session of the Legislature to amend the Constitution to permit the enactment of laws to provide assistance to the aged and also bills to provide for unemployment insurance and

Whereas The economic depression which has been growing steadily for a period of more than three years has resulted in constantly decreasing revenues of business and government and it is apparent that additional burdens cannot be added unless the effect on business and government is know and the ways and means of raising the revenues to carry out such laws are carefully considered and analyzed and equitably applied and

Whereas It is apparent that the United States and other countries are now going through a period of great economic change the results of which cannot be forecast at this time and

Whereas The states of the United States are in a different position than that occupied by European countries since burdens added to business in one state may result in the shifting of this business to other states where similar burdens are not imposed while in European countries such laws can be made to apply to the entire country therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint four Members of the House who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to study the laws of other states and counties relating to old age pensions and unemployment insurance the experience of such states and countries the feasibility and advisability of adopting old age pension and unemployment insurance laws in this Commonwealth ways and means of financing such systems in case the committee reports favorable to make a study of the problems of unemployment relief generally and of such other matters in relation thereto as the committee deems advisable

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

Resolved That said committee shall have the aid and assistance of the Legislative Reference Bureau in carrying out the duties and preparing the report required by this act

Resolved That said committee shall have power to accept donations and gifts of money for the purpose of the payment of the expenses of the committee and to carry into effect the intent of this resolution

Resolved That the committee shall make a report to the General Assembly not later than February first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five of its findings which report shall contain such drafts of legislation as the committee deems advisable for the consideration of the General Assembly

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose this resolution. I think that it is an insult to this assembly to ask us to appoint a commission to study the subject of old age pensions. It has been before use for a matter of fifteen or sixteen years. The General Assembly back in 1917 appointed a Joint Legislative Commission, of which James H. Maurer, then President of the State Federation of Labor, was made Chairman, and it studied the question for a number of years. This commission was reappointed by three different governors, Governor Brumbaugh, Governor Sproul and Governor Pinchot. They studied the question, not only in the United States, but throughout the world and came back with recommendations that resulted in the passage by both houses of the Legislature of an old age pension bill in 1923. This bill was afterwards declared unconstitutional by the Courts. The matter of adopting a constitutional amendment to make possible its enactment has been before this Legislature since that time, a matter of ten years. The amendments were passed by the Legislature in 1925 but were defeated in 1927. So that they could not be placed before the people when the amendments were submitted in 1928. They were then brought before the Legislature again and were passed unanimously in the year 1931 and appeared before this Legislature when certain vested interests representing the Mellons and the Grundys, representing the manufacturers of this State, took it upon themselves to carry on a concerted campaign to defeat them. They tried successfully in this House for a matter of six months, even to the extent of adding six members to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments some six weeks after the regular committee appointments were made. Finally a motion was made to discharge the Committee on Constitutional Amendments from further consideration of those resolutions and that motion passed on March 28th by a vote of one hundred and eighty to twelve, a matter of fifteen to one. Now they ask us to appoint a commission to study the question. After all, the resolutions are only proposed constitutional amendments and have to be submitted to the people for approval. What good is it going to do us to study the question until the people have passed upon the question of whether we can enact such legislation or not. I submit that the question has been amply studied, that the members of this Legislature in particular, and the people of this State in general, are in favor of old age pensions, and realize that old age pensions are cheaper than almshouses and that they are better for the people and that it will not make it necessary to separate the aged husbands and wives as is the practice in many of our almshouses today. That there is no necessity for us to study it.

But I have another reason, which to my mind is more forcible than those which I have advocated as to why this resolution should not be adopted. If this resolution is adopted the sponsor will, in the ordinary practice, become the chairman of the commission, and if you look at the Legislative Journal for March 28th you will find that the sponsor of this resolution voted against the discharge of the committee from further consideration of this bill. In other words, he was in favor of killing this measure in this House. We don't want a legislative committee appointed with a man who is hostile to the proposition to start with as chairman of it. He is the one who raised the point of order to limit the debate as much as possible and prevent discussion of the real question before the House. I ask the members of this House not to vote for a resolution to appoint a committee which we know in advance will be hostile to old age pensions and who under a pretense of studying it will come in here two years hence and report against it, even after we have once adopted it here in the House by a vote of one hundred and eighty to twelve. We have already adopted a resolution yesterday to appoint a committee to study unemployment insurance, so that has no place in it.

I ask you out of respect for yourself and for the people of this State to vote no on this resolution.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be interogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I notice on page three the commission is authorized to receive donations; is that right.

Mr. TURNER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware have any expectation of receiving a donation from the Governor?

Mr. TURNER. I should think that that might be a possibility, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Does the gentleman really believe that it might happen?

Mr. TURNER. Well, Mr. Speaker, I should think within the realm of probability it might happen.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that the Governor would donate money to continue the delay on old age pensions?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't think that there is any question of delay on old age pensions here.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware think that the Governor might donate two or three time in order to keep putting it off?

Mr. TURNER. I don't know anything about what his attitude might be, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not intended to say anything on this resolution, because I thought it was self evident, but I do just want to say this; that it has been my belief all through this session that some such move of this kind should be made, and I am very much surprised at the remarks of the gentleman from Berks. Of course, I am never surprised at some of the things, he says, but I am surprised in this instance for the reason that I had discussed this resolution with the representatives of labor and with the friends of old age pensions and unemployment insurance, and I understood that they were in hearty accord with this move.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, on the question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, relative to donations, would it not be possible for capitalistic groups who were interested in this thing, in its defeat, to donate?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I should say it would be possible for any group, whether it be labor, whether it be management, whether it be capital, no matter what it might be, to make a contribution.

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, would it not seem rather odd to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, to accept a donation from those interested in the defeat of the measure and then be compelled to make a report to this body adverse to them?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, well now, the gentleman from Erie is presupposing two or three different things that may be absolutely impossible, I don't know. In the first place the gentleman is presupposing that I would have something to do with that question. That is a question that will have to be decided by the Speaker, on the assumption that this resolution should go through, as to who would be on this commission. In the second place I should say that any commission of this kind would not accept any donation that had any string to it that meant that they had to decide the question one way or the other. It certainly would be unethical I should think.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand the sense of this resolution it is to investigate the necessity for old age pensions; is that correct?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner?

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. As I understand the sense of the resolution, Mr. Speaker, it is to investigate the necessity for old age pensions; is that correct?

Mr. TURNER. No. Mr. Speaker, the sense of my resolution and my thought in this matter has been this; that there are three important phases of unemployment in the unemployment question and that it seemed to me that old age pensions were more or less related to these problems that have been before us in this depression. There has been, as the gentleman from Berks has said, undoubtedly a great study made of old age pensions; there is a lot of literature and of detail upon the whole question, but it seemed to me that we have also had a tremendous amount of experience in the last couple of years and that in this session there is no legislation on old age pensions or unemployment insurance; at least I mean legislation that will be enacted into law at this session, and that, therefore, there ought to be some body of the legislature, some committee of the Legislature that would be taking all of this data, and corelating it and assemblying it and making a study of the experience of these last few years and up to the time of the next session so that at the next session they would be able to present the picture to the Legislature.

Mr. JOHN J. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have tried to follow the explanation of the sponsor of the resolution, Mr. Turner, and I can agree with him to a certain extent. There has to be some study made of the question of unemployment insurance, but I cannot agree with him on the question of the necessity of a further study on old age pensions. Old age pensions is a proposition that has been before the people of Pennsylvania for many years. It has been thoroughly studied and the question before the General Assembly of Pennsylvania today is as to whether or not the people of Pennsylvania will decide whether they want the constitution amended so as to permit the payment of old age pensions. That is the only question, and I am afraid that the adoption of this resolution may add to the opposition that now exists as to the right of the Assembly to submit to the people the privileges of amending the constitution on old age pensions. If the resolution dealt with the question of unemployment insurance it would be a different subject. As I understand it old age pensions dove-tail into this proposition of unemployment insurance, but I am afraid it is going to delay action on old age pensions. For that reason I believe that the resolution should be voted down.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, May I call the attention of the gentleman from Allegheny to this fact, that even in the first place, as I understand it, in the Senate the action on Monday night was against the discharge of the committee from further consideration of the old age pension bill. That would mean, I would take it, that there would be no legislation during this session on old age pensions. Therefore, how would a resolution of this kind delay it? In the second place, the passage of the bill in the Senate is a constitutional amendment, and there would have to be legislation if that were enacted; there would have to be legislation at the next session on this question. Therefore, anything that would be gathered by this committee in the next two years would be useful in the next session of the Legislature.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I Will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, referring to the resolution, on page 2, line 6, are the words "constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to study the laws of other states and other countries"—does that mean that this commission is to go to Europe?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't think you need to go to Europe to study the laws of other countries.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman think that Europe is far advanced over us?

The SPEAKER. Is the investigation being conducted now?

Mr. SOWERS. It may be, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I don't think I need to answer that question.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. No, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware declines to be further interrogated.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to ask whether or not the passage of this resolution would interfere with the enabling legislation at a special session, providing there should be one called in the near future.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not see how it could if the call provided for the legislation.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. No, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware declines to be further interrogated.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask one question.

Mr. TURNER. I will answer the one question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Delaware aware of the fact that a report has just been made by the Pennsylvania State Committee on unemployment reserves?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am aware of it and I consulted and talked to Mr. Denby not later than Monday afternoon on this resolution, and it had his hearty co-operation and support at that time.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Delaware state that the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor through their officials has signified their willingness to go along with this resolution and this proposition?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would not want to go that far, Mr. Speaker. I have talked to some representatives of labor and one of them was an official.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, no.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman declines to be interrogated.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this resolution represents repentance, but the hour of grace has passed; the record has been compiled. Those responsible for the record shold be compelled to face it. This resolution should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was not adopted.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 2361, Senate Bill No. 1388, Printer's No. 625, entitled

An Act to amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards, and commissions shall be determined," by adding a new section providing for the reimbursement of the General Fund by the special operating funds for services rendered by the Department of Property and Supplies, and for space occupied in the Capitol buildings by departments, boards and commissions supported from the operating funds.

was defeated on final passage on May 2 be reconsidered.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ederer, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. EDERER. I voted in the majority, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Bechtel, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. BECHTEL. I voted no, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Which was the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. EDERER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, yesterday through a misunderstanding and misinterpretation, I am sure, this House voted down Senate Bill No. 1388. To all appearances this bill was just another raider on the Fish and Game funds. However, since yesterday several members of the House, including myself, have investigated this measure, and find that in our previous action in defeating House Bills 1787 and 1782, this bill, Senate Bill No. 1388, does not affect the Fish and Game funds.

I, therefore, ask you to vote in favor of its reconsideration.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, because of the great importance of this measure to the completion of a program and in order to make certain that every member of the House who votes affirmatively for the measure will be able to do so with a clear understanding that its final passage and enactment into law will not in any sense violate or impair the Fish Fund and the Game Fund, I ask your indulgence for just a few moments.

I have asked Mr. Fertig of the Legislative Reference Bureau to render an opinion to the House on the question involved directly whether or not the pass age of this measure will impair or violate the Fish or Game funds, and Mr. Fertig's letter reads as follows:

3 May 1933

Honorable Philip Sterling, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Mr. Sterling:

The purpose of Senate Bill 1388 is to enable the Department of Property and Supplies to bill those departments, boards and commissions whose maintenance appropriations are paid out of special funds for costs incurred in purchasing supplies and for rent for space occupied and light, heat, power and telephone services. The object is to relieve the General Fund from paying these charges, and to make the agencies affected in fact self-sustaining.

This bill, if enacted, cannot be effective unless there is companion legislation appropriating moneys in the special operating funds for these purposes. The bill itself recognizes this necessity on page 3, in lines 20 and 21, where it is provided that only such agencies "to which funds are appropriated for this purpose shall be filled." The words "this purpose" can only mean a separate appropriation for the services specified in Senate Bill 1388, which are referred to above.

Consequently, if the Game and Fish Funds are to be filled for these services, there must be an appropriation of those funds for payment for such services. These appropriations were provided in House Bills 1782 and 1787, which are companions to Senate 1388. The first, House Bill 1782, made an appropriation of the Fish Fund for cost of audit of the affairs of the Fish Commission, for the cost of making disbursements from this fund, and for rent, light, heat, power, telephone and other services. House Bill 1787 made similar provisions with respect to the Game Fund. Both of these bills were defeated on April 4th. Consequently, Senate Bill 1388 cannot become operative as to these two funds and must be limited in its administration to those funds where companion bills make specific appropriations.

Sincerely yours,
J. H. FERTIG,
Director.

You will recall that yesterday I stated to you that the only special funds involved by the passage of this bill were, first, the Motor Fund, secondly, the Workmen's Insurance Fund and, thirdly, the Banking Fund.

The bill now before you is merely an amendment to the Administrative Code to make possible, to authorize the fiscal officers to bill for services rendered the Motor Fund, the Banking Fund and the Workmen's Insurance Fund.

We have been put in about this position: we have built a machine constituting five parts. The Legislature has eliminated by its defeat of the Fish bill and the Game bill two of those parts. Three parts remain. They can in themselves constitute a complete machine, but they cannot be operated without oil. The bill before you now provided the oil with which this three-part machine may be operated with the result that the revenues of the Commonwealth, so far as concerns the General Fund, will be saved approximately three quarters of a million dollars.

I have two other communications, which I will read to you, in order to further convince you and make more conclusive the statement that I made to you yesterday and that which is now made to you. From the Board of Fish Commissioners this letter was received this morning:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Board of Fish Communications, Harrisburg, Pa., May 2, 1933.

Honorable Philip Sterling, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Mr. Sterling:

I have been advised by the Department of Justice that Senate Bill No. 1388 does not effect the fishermen's license fund. In lieu of this information, we feel there would be no objections to the passing of this bill by the licensed fishermen of the State.

Very respectfully yours,
O. M. DEIBLER,
Commissioner of Fisheries.

From the Board of Game Commissioners I have received the following communication this morning:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Board of Fish Communications, Harrisburg, Pa., May 2, 1933.
Honorable Philip Sterling, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Penna.

Dear Mr. Sterling:

After a further study of Senate Bill No. 1388, House Bill No. 2361, Printer's No. 165, we find upon the advice of the Department of Justice that this Department would not be included under the provisions of this bill.

Yours very truly,
ERNEST E. HARWOOD,
Executive Secretary,

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with this explanation—I hope clear to all and if it is not so I shall be glad to stand for interrogation—I ask that the House give its affirmative vote to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 1791

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 2, 1933.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the House of Representatives and Senate recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1791, Printer's No. 1012, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed finally be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CORDIER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 6, by removing the bracket before the word "Section."

Amend section 2, page 2, line 11, by removing the bracket after the word "liability."

Amend section 2, page 2, line 12 to 20, by striking out all of said lines, both inclusive.

The Speaker. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

CONSENT REQUESTED TO CALL UP BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask for unanimous consent to make an announcement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the making of an announcement? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 1009, Printer's No. 1223, on page 5 of today's calendar, bills on final passage recalled from the Governor for the purpose of offering a strike out amendment.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman ask unanimous consent?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is asking unanimous consent to call this bill up out of order for the purpose of offering an amendment by the striking out of one word. Will the gentleman inform the House what part of the bill he desires to amend by striking out?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to strike out the word "additions" on the third page of the bill, line 29.

May I now say to the House, Mr. Speaker, that it is necessary that the House pass on this bill at this time, in order that the Appropriations Committee may work its will on it. It is a general appropriation bill and you know what the law is. I have no objection to anybody voting as they please, but I ask unanimous consent in order that this may be done and the bill may be reprinted and brought back on the calendar today, in order that the House may work its will on it. I have no objection any body voting as they please when it comes up. but I do ask the House to give its unanimous consent in order that it may go to the printer and come back again.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, unless the gentleman from McKean will withhold his motion until we have had a conference on this bill, I will have to object.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, it may be explained that it is not necessary for the gentleman to ask that which he is asking, but the Chair requested the gentleman on account of the closing days of the session to do it and, in order that we may not become confused, the Chair will read "Striking out a portion of the bill does not require a reprinting of the bill." Decision No. 31, reads as fololws: "A house bill having been amended on third reading by striking out a portion of the bill, the point of order was raised that the bill having been amended must lie over for printing. The Speaker decided the point of order not well taken, the amendment being a strike out, the bill is properly before the House on final passage." That is taken from the Legislative Record of April 29th, 1909. The Chair affirms the opinion given by the Speaker at that time and so rules, that a strike out will not prevent the consideration of the bill. Therefore, the gentleman's request will be withdrawn.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from McKean will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I called the bill up for the purpose of amending it. Is it corect that I shall wait until it is reached on the calendar and then make the amendment?

The Speaker. That is correct.

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERRENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 717

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 717, entitled

An Act establishing certain streets in boroughs and incorporated towns as State highways and providing for their construction and maintenance at the expense of the Commonwealth and has appointed Messrs. Williamson, Parkinson and Gelder a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representative shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that a Committee of Conference be appointed on the part of the House to confer with a similar committee on the part of the Senate.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 717.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on the part of the House Messrs. Heffner, Nothnagle and Peters.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. RAUB. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 2089, Senate Bill No. 560, Printer's No. 220, on page 18 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Raub,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2089 (Senate Bill No. 560), entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand eight hundred and five of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred six) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" providing that in awarding certain contracts for the erection construction and alteration of public buildings separate bids shall be received for the structural steel work

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a companion bill of the one we defeated the day before yesterday pertaining to the construction of State and municipal buildings, where we permit the structural iron and steel to be separate from the general contracting end of it.

I ask that you vote this bill down.

Mr. RAUB. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, due to a misunderstanding with the Federation of Labor, they opposed the bill which preceded this bill, No. 559, and it was voted down Monday evening. The Federation of Labor advised Senator Roberts and myself this morning that they had withdrawn their opposition to these bills, and I therefore, in behalf of Senator Roberts, ask your support for this bill and the next three succeeding bills.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 2090, Senate Bill No. 561, Printer's No. 221, entitled

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifty-five) entitled "An act regulating the letting of certain contracts for the erection construction and alteration of public buildings" providing that in such cases separate contracts shall be awarded for the structural steel work was defeated on final passage on May 1st, be reconsidered.

Mr. BEECH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Fitzgerald, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the negative.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Beech, vote on the final passage of the bill?

Mr. BEECH. I voted in the negative, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is a companion bill to the four that were just passed. The bill, I think, was defeated through a misunderstanding on Monday night. In view of the fact that we have passed the other four bills, which are similar to this one, I feel that there should be no question but that this motion should prevail and the bill to be placed back on the calendar and then passed.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Where the order of the court provides for advertisement it shall in no case require that there be more than a single insertion in one newspaper of general circulation in the county Where real property which is to be sold is situated in a county other than the one in which the institution is located the court may also authorize a single insertion in a newspaper of general circulation in such other county

Every such sale of real property shall be confirmed by the court if all the terms and conditions of its order authorizing such sale have been complied with

B When any real property of an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver is situated in a county other than the one in which the institution is located the Secretary shall proceed in the same manner as is provided by this section for the sale of real property within the county In addition he shall petition the court of common pleas of the county in which the real property is located and it shall be the duty of such court to issue an order authorizing the sale upon the terms or conditions prescribed by the order of the court having jurisdiction of the receivership The Secretary shall file a return of the sale in the court of common pleas in the county in which the real estate is located which court if all the terms and conditions of the order of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed have been met shall confirm the sale and shall give the Secretary a certified copy of the return of the sale and a certified copy of the confirmation thereof Such certified copies shall be filed with the prothonotary of the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

Section 719 Effect of Sale upon Liens A The sale by the Secretary of any real property of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver shall not affect any lien thereon except that in the case of a lien which would under the laws of the Commonwealth ordinarily be discharged by a judicial sale the court in its order authorizing the sale may prescribe that such lien shall be discharged by the sale Whenever such liens are to be discharged by a sale the Secretary shall give notice of the sale to all creditors who appear by the books of the institution or by the records of the county or otherwise to have or to claim to have such liens upon such property the proceeds of the sale shall then take the place of the property sold and shall be distributed in the order prescribed by and to the parties entitled to take under the laws of the Commonwealth which relate to the discharge of liens by a judicial sale

B If real property is situated in a county other than that in which the institution is located the court in which the certificate of possession is filed shall be the one empowered to issue the original order prescribing the discharge of liens The procedure shall be the same as in the case of any other terms or conditions prescribed in its order for the sale of real property situated in another county

Section 720 Leases for Property The Secretary may without leave of court enter into leases for real or personal property belonging to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver for a period not to exceed one year He may with leave of court enter into such leases for a period not to exceed ten years upon the terms and under the conditions prescribed by the order of the court

The court shall not require advertisement or notice of leases entered into upon its order except where special circumstances shall appear to require such action in order to protect the interests of the estate

Section 721 Sale or Exchange of Personal Property Listed and Unlisted Securities A The Secretary may without leave of court sell on any stock exchange or otherwise at such times and in such manner as he shall deem to be to the best interests of the estate listed or unlisted securities which belong to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver or which such institution has the power to sell

B The Secretary may without leave of court exchange listed or unlisted securities for other securities of the corporation issuing the securities or of a corporation which has merged or consolidated with or has taken over such corporation

C The Secretary may without leave of court sell any mortgage or other lien upon real property or any judgment at such times and in such manner as he shall deem to the best interests of the estate

D Except as otherwise specifically provided by this act the Secretary may without leave of court sell (1) at public sale or (2) at private sale for a net consideration not below the amount at which such personal property has been valued in the appraisement required by this act any personal property which belongs to the institution of which he is in possession as receiver or which such institution has the power to sell He may with leave of court sell such personal property at private sale upon such terms and under such conditions as the court shall prescribe

Section 722 Deposit of Moneys by Secretary All moneys received by the Secretary as receiver of an institution shall be deposited by him with one or more corporations or persons authorized by law to receive deposits and subject to the supervision either of Federal or State banking authorities He shall require of such depository security therefor in such amount and of such nature as the Secretary shall deem adequate

Section 723 Enforcement of Shareholders' Liability A If at any time after he takes possession of a corporation as receiver it shall appear to the Secretary that the assets of such corporation will be insufficient to pay in full its debts to depositors and other creditors he shall as soon as expedient estimate the amount which shall be assessed against all shareholders who are under these circumstances personally liable for any part of the debts of such corporation by reason of their ownership of such shares He shall assess against such shareholders the amount which he then deems necessary for the payment of such debts not however exceeding the maximum liability of such shareholders as provided by law The Secretary shall send to every such shareholder by registered mail to the address which appears on the records of the corporation or if none appears there then to his last known address a demand that the amount assessed against him be paid Such demand shall state the total amount assessed by the Secretary against all the shareholders and the specific amount to be paid by the particular shareholder It shall also designate a period within such assessment shall be paid such period to be not less than thirty days after the date of the sending of the notice If any shareholders shall not pay the amount assessed against them the Secretary may institute actions at law or in equity against them either severally or jointly for the amount of such assessment together with interest from the date designated in the notice from the Secretary for the payment of such assessment In such action the written statement of the Secretary signed by him in his official capacity as receiver and bearing the seal of the Department asserting that the assets of the corporation appear insufficient to meet its liabilities to depositors and other creditors that consequently he has made an assessment against the shareholder or shareholders being sued that the period designated for the payment of the assessment has expired and that the value of the assets of the corporation and the liabilities of such corporations are as set forth shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated

B The Secretary may make as many partial assessments as shall appear expedient until the total liability of the shareholders or the total amount necessary to pay in full the depositors and other creditors of the corporation has been assessed

Section 724 Property in Safe Deposit Vault or Held for Safe-Keeping The Secretary may any time after taking possesison of an institution as receiver give written notice to anyone claiming or appearing on the books of such institution to be the owner or to be entitled to the possession of any personal property left with such institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and to anyone appearing on the books of the institution to be the lessee of any safe vault deposit box notifying such bailor or lessee respectively to remove all such personal property within the period fixed by the notice provided that such period shall in no case be less than sixty days after the date of the notice

At the expiration of such period if the lessee of a safe vault or safe deposit box has not removed the contents thereof the Secretary may cause such safe vault or safe deposit box to be opened either in his presence or in the presence of the deputy receiver of the institution and in the presence of a notary public not an officer or employe of the institution or of the Department The contents if any of such safe vault or safe deposit box shall then be sealed and marked by such notary with the name and address of the lessee in whose name such safe vault or safe deposit box appeared on the books of the institution and with a list and description of the property therein The Secretary shall take such action as he shall deem desirable to safeguard such property until it is delivered to the owner or is otherwise disposed of in accordance with law

The Secretary shall follow the same procedure and have the same powers with regard to the property left with the institution as bailee for safe-keeping or depository for hire and not called for within the period specified by the notice

The contract of bailment or lease if any shall be considered at an end upon the date designated by the Secretary for the removal of the property therein The amount of unearned rent or charges if any paid by the bailor or lessee shall become a debt of the institution

ARTICLE VIII

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF TRUST DEPARTMENT

Section 801 Institution as Fiduciary References in this act to funds property or investments held in a fiduciary capacity by an institution of which the Secretary has taken possession shall apply only to funds property or investments held in such fiduciary capacity by the trust department of such institution and shall not apply to funds property or investments which were held by the commercial department of such institution

Section 802 Secretary in Possession of Trust Department A The Secretary upon taking possession of an institution as receiver shall keep all the funds property and investments if any which are held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity separate from the assets of the institution itself

B The Secretary when in possession of an institution as receiver shall have all the rights powers and duties which such institution had in its fiduciary capacity He shall have title to all the assets including debts due liens and other security therefor and all rights of action or redemption of all estates of which the institution either alone or jointly with someone else was trustee executor administrator guardian assignee or other similar fiduciary and shall have the power to administer such estates In pursuance of this power the Secretary may institute any action at law or in equity or execute and sign any written instruments which the institution itself could have instituted executed or signed

The Secretary shall not however have the power to invest funds or property of any such estate except where it shall appear necessary to purchase any real or personal property or any interest therein in order to protect an equity which such estate has in such property Such purchase by the Secretary shall not however be made without the approval of any corporation or person whose approval would have been necessary to such purchase by the institution prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary and of the court which has exercised jurisdiction over such estate If no court has yet exercised jurisdiction over the estate then the approval either of the court of common pleas or of the orphan's court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated shall be procured

Except where otherwise specifically provided references in this act to the court which has exercised jurisdiction over an estate of which an institution in possession of the Secretary was fiduciary shall be construed to refer in cases in which the institution was executor or administrator to the orphans' court of the county of which the register of wills issued the letters testamentary or letters of administration respectively and in all other cases to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court in which an account of the estate has been filed or which has in any manner exercised control or supervision over the administration of such estate by the institution as fiduciary

Section 803 Disputes as to Identity of Trust Funds All disputes as to the identity of the funds property or investments of an estate of which an institution in the possession of the Secretary was fiduciary arising either because such funds property or investments have become or are alleged to have become mingled with other funds property or investments or for any other reason shall be determined by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed Such court shall have exclusive jurisidiction over such disputes

Section 804 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciaries Upon filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution the Secretary shall forthwith give written notice in so far as the giving of such notice is practicable to all parties of whom he has notice who are interested in any funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity Such notice shall require such parties within thirty days after the giving of notice to apply for the appointment of substituted fiduciaries Such application shall be made as follows In any case in which the institution was executor or administrator application shall be made to the register of wills naving jurisdiction to grant new letters in such form as the case shall require in any other case application shall be made to any court which has exercised jurisdiction over the estate or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then to the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business However if the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established provides a particular method for the selection of fiduciaries such method shall be followed

If the parties to whom such notice has been given do not within the thirty-day period designated make such application, or pursue whatever method is prescribed by the instrument under which the fiduciary relationship was established for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary or if it is impracticable to give notice to the parties interested in the estate then he Secretary shall make the application for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary to the court or the register of wills whichever the case may be designated above Such court or register of wills shall appoint a substituted fiduciary upon such petition of the Secretary

Section 805 Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary without Filing Account If a substituted fiduciary has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this act and if there is no dispute as to the amount or identity of the funds property or investments of the particular estate and as to the fees commissions and expenses due either to the institution before the Secretary took possession or to the Secretary as receiver since the taking of possession and if all the parties in interest being sui juris agree in writing to waive an accounting in court the Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver may transfer to such substituted fiduciary all the funds property and investments of the particular estate without filing an account in any court Upon such transfer he shall procure from all the parties in interest and from the substituted fiduciary a receipt and release in full which shall discharge the Secretary and the institution from any further duty or liability with reference to such estate

Section 806 Filing of Account Transfer of Assets to Substituted Fiduciary A Except in cases in which the Secretary is authorized by the provisions of this act to transfer to a substituted fiduciary without filing an account the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary he shall file an account for every estate of which such institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall file each such account upon the date fixed by the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship or if there is no such date fixed then as soon as expedient after the filing of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of the institution Such account shall be filed in the court which has exercised jurisdiction over the particular estate or if no court has yet exercised jurisdiction then in the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the place of business of the institution is situated The Secretary shall then transfer or pay to the substituted fiduciary appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act any funds property or investments in his possession which belong to such estate Such transfer or payment shall be made in accordance with the order of the court in which the account for such estate is filed The court in directing such transfer or payment may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge

B The court which has exercised jurisdiction over a particular estate of which the institution was fiduciary or if no court has exercised such jurisdiction then the court of common pleas or the orphans' court of the county in which the institution has its place of business may order the Secretary to transfer the funds property or investments of the estate to the substituted fiduciary even prior to the filing of an account The court in such order may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge or any other question which may arise upon the audit of the account

C This section shall not be construed to give any court other than the one in which the certificate of possession is filed jurisdiction over disputes involving the identity of funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 807 Deficiencies in Assets Held by Institution as Fiduciary Whenever the court in which the Secretry has filed the account of an estate of which an institution in his possession was fiduciary shall in the manner provided by law rule that there is a deficiency in the funds property or investments of such estate or that the institution is liable to surcharge in respect thereto the amount determined by such court to be due shall constitute a claim against the institution and shall be presented in the same manner as other claims except that it may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court Such order or decree of such court shall be conclusive as to the amount due except for the right of appeal provided by law Any dispute as to the classification or order of payment of such claim as distinguished from the amount shall be adjudicated by the court in which the certificate of possession is filed

If the existence or amount of any such deficiency or surcharge or the liability of the institution therefor is in litigation but undetermined at the time dividends for claims having no priority in order of payment over such claims are being distributed the Secretary shall upon notice of such fact from the substituted fiduciary withhold and set apart a sufficient amount to pay the proportionate dividend which will be due upon such undetermined claim if it is finally adjudicated in favor of the estate of which the institution was fiduciary

Section 808 Compensation Due Institution and Secretary from Estates The Secretary in possession of an institution as receiver shall be entitled to collect such reasonable fees and commisions as were earned both as to income and as to principal and such reasonable expenses as were incurred by the institution in its capacity as fiduciary prior to the date on which possession was taken by the Secretary He shall also be entitled to reasonable fees and commissions both as to income and as to principal for any services performed and all reasonable expenses incurred by him on behalf of any estate of which the institution was fiduciary The Secretary shall be entitled to such commissions on principal as shall appear reasonable under all the circumstances whether or not the trust has terminated at the time of the filing of the account or of the transfer by the Secretary of the funds property and investments of the estate in accordance with the provisions of the instrument creating the fiduciary relationship All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

Except in cases where the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act transfers funds property or investments of the estate without filing an account the court in which the Secretary shall file the account for the estate of which the institution was fiduciary shall award to the Secretary the fees commissions and expenses provided for in this section

ARTICLE IX

SECRETARY IN POSSESSION OF A MORTGAGE OR SECURITY POOL OR OF AN ASSET IN WHICH UNDIVIDED INTERESTS ARE HELD

Section 901 Mortgage and Security Pools and Participations Accounts Whenever the Secretary shall have filed a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he is in possession as receiver he shall as soon as it may be convenient file in the court in which the certificate of possession shall have been filed an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests shall have been created by the institution regardless of whether certificates of participation in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset shall have been actually issued by the institution and regardless of whether the relation of the institution to the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset is technically that of a trustee

A mortgage or securities pool shall be regarded as having been operated by the institution regardless of whether any or all of the mortgages securities or other assets in such pool shall be held in the name of the institution or in the name of a nominee of the institution Where undivided interests have been created in any mortgage security or other asset by any corporation or person holding such mortgage security or other asset as nominee of the institution such undivided interests shall be regarded as having been created by the institution

The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record any such account filed by the Secretary He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 902 Transfer of Pools and Participations without Filing an Account If all the corporations or persons who are the owners of all the undivided interests in any mortgage or securities pool or in any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests are sui juris and if they shall agree to the amount asserted by the Secretary to be due him as receiver for services rendered by the institution or by him and for expenses incurred by either and if they shall authorize the Secretary to transfer any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset to them or to a substituted fiduciary or any other corporation or person agreed upon by them and if they shall execute proper instruments releasing the Secretary and the institution from any further liability to them the Secretary may transfer to such substituted fiduciary or to such corporation or person without filing an account all the mortgages securities or other assets comprising such mortgage or securities pool or the mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests have been created In any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any undivided interest in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such estate the Secretary shall not transfer such mortgage or securities pool or such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution unless he shall also be authorized to make such transfer by all corporations or persons having an interest in the estate of which the institution was fiduciary except that where substituted fiduciaries have not been appointed for unborn beneficiaries of the estate or for other beneficiaries who are not sui juris the Secretary shall not be required to obtain such authority from anyone in behalf of such unborn beneficiaries or other persons who are not sui juris

Section 903 Notice of Filing Account A Upon filing an account as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which he is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the Secretary shall give notice thereof in so far as it may be practicable to all corporations or persons who are the owners of the undivided interests in any such mortgage or securities pool or in any such mortgage security or other asset and in any case where the institution as fiduciary of an estate is the owner on behalf of such estate of any such undivided interest then to all corporations or persons having an interest in such estate except that no such notice need be given to anyone on behalf of unborn beneficiaries who are not sui juris where no substituted fiduciary has been appointed for such beneficiaries Such notice shall be given to the corporations or persons entitled thereto under this section at their addresses as they appear on the books or other records of the institution or if the address of any such corporation or person does not appear thereon then at the last known address of such corporation or person

B Such notice shall state the time and place of the audit of such account and except where an application for a substituted fiduciary shall have been made by any other method authorized by this act it shall also state the intention of the Secretary to apply for a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution and the time and place of any hearing upon such application which may be fixed by the court

Section 904 Appointment of Substituted Fiduciary Transfer of Pools or Participations upon Order of Court A After the filing by the Secretary of a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the business and property of an institution but either before or after the filing of an account by him as to any mortgages securities or other assets comprising any mortgage or securities pool operated by such institution or as to any mortgage security or other assets in which the institution shall have created undivided interests the owner of any undivided interest in such mortgage or securities pool or in such mortgage security or other asset may file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created

If such petition shall not have been filed by the owner of any such undivided interest within thirty days after the notice by the Secretary of the filing of an account as to such mortgage or security pool or as to such mortgage security or other asset the Secretary shall file in the court in which the certificate of possession is filed a petition for the appointment of a substituted fiduciary for such mortgage or securities pool or for any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution

Upon the filing of such a petition by the owner of any such undivided interest or by the Secretary for such mortgage or security pool or for such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created by the institution the court shall upon a day fixed by it conduct a hearing upon such application after which it shall appoint a substituted fiduciary

B The Secretary shall transfer to the substituted fiduciary appointed by the court all such mortgages securities or other assets comprising any such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage security or other asset in which undivided interests were created as are in his possession as receiver and as to which he shall have filed an account The substituted fiduciary shall take such mortgages securities or other assets without liability for the nature or value of the mortgages securities or other assets as investments Such transfer shall be made in accordance with the order of the court and in directing such transfer the court may reserve for future determination any question of surcharge against the institution or the Secretary

The court may after petition filed pursuant to the provisions of this section order the Secretary to make such transfer even prior to filing an account in which case it may also reserve for future determination any question which may arise upon the audit of the account

Section 905 Advances by Secretary to Substituted Fiduciary Whenever the Secretary shall have filed an account as to any such mortgage or securities pool or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests and it shall appear to the court that any sum of cash will be needed by the substituted fiduciary for the protection of the owners of undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pools or in any such mortgage security or other asset as to which account shall have been filed and if it shall appear from the account that the Secretary does not have any cash held by him in connection with such mortgages or securities pool or in connection with any such mortgage security or other asset or if the account discloses that the cash in his hands for that purpose is sufficient for the protection of the owners of the undivided interests in such mortgage or securities pool or any such mortgage or security or other asset or where no account is filed if the Secretary shall demonstrate these facts to the satisfaction of the court the court may upon petition of the Secretary and in the exercise of its discretion order the Secretary to advance to the substituted fiduciary out of the general assets of the institution such cash as may be necessary for the protection of the owners of such undivided interest such order shall provide that the amount of cash so advanced by the Secretary shall be repaid by the substituted fiduciary out of the first moneys realized by such substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities and other assets transferred to him

Section 906 Compensation and Expenses The court in its adjudication of any account filed by the Secretary as to any mortgage or securities pool operated by an institution of which the Secretary is in possession as receiver or as to any mortgage security or other asset in which the institution shall have created undivided interests shall award to the Secretary such compensation for services rendered and expenses properly incurred by the institution or by the Secretary as the court shall deem reasonable and proper under all the circumstances The order of the court making any such award to the Secretary shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of any cash included in the account or if there be no cash in the account or if the amount of cash included therein is insufficient to pay the amount awarded to the Secretary the order shall provide for the payment of such compensation or expenses out of the first moneys realized by the substituted fiduciary on the mortgages securities or other assets so transferred to such substituted fiduciary All sums received by the Secretary under this section shall become assets of the institution of which he is in possession as receiver

When the court shall pursuant to the provisions of this act order the Secretary to transfer such mortgages securities or other assets prior to the filing of an account it shall similarly make provision for the payment of the compensation earned or the expenses incurred by the institution or by the Secretary

ARTICLE X

PROOF OF CLAIMS ACCOUNTING AND DISTRIBUTION

Section 1001 Notice to Depositors Shareholders and Other Creditors After filing a supplement to the certificate of possession setting forth his determination to liquidate the affairs of an institution of which he has taken possession as receiver the Secretary shall forthwith give notice of such fact to all corporations or persons who appear upon the books of the institution as or who are otherwise known to the Secretary to be or claim to be depositors or other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders of such institution He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

The notice to each depositor or in the case of a building and loan association to each shareholder shall state the amount which the books or other records of the institution show to be due to such depositor or shareholder It shall also state that unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time present to the Secretary for settlement his deposit or pass book or other evidence of his account showing a different amount to be due or unless such depositor or shareholder shall within a specified time from the date of such notice prove in the manner provided by this act that a different amount is due the amount shown to be due by the books of the institution will be conclusively presumed to be correct unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The notice to each creditor other than a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association other than a shareholder shall inform such creditor that he must present his claim in the manner provided by this act within a specified time from the date of such notice or else be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time

The Secretary shall also advertise in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act the fact that he has determined to liquidate the affairs of the institution and that he has filed an inventory and appraisement in the office of the prothonotary Such advertisement shall state that all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders must prove their claims within a specified period or be bound by the amount shown by the books or records of the institution to be due them and that any corporation or person not appearing upon the books of the institution to be a depositor or in the case of a building and loan association a shareholder and not presenting his pass book or other evidence of the state of his account or otherwise presenting his claim will be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants him an extension of time It shall also state that all creditors other than depositors or in the case of building and loan associations other than shareholders not proving their claims in the manner provided by this act and within a specified perior will likewise be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution except where the court pursuant to the provisions of this act grants to a creditor an extension of time

The Secretary shall specify as the last day upon which depositors creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders can present their claims a date not less than one hundred twenty days after the taking of possession of the institution by him as receiver provided that such date shall be at least thirty days after the date of the sending of such notice However claims based upon deficiencies in or surcharges with respect to funds property or investments which such institution held in a fiduciary capacity may be presented at any time within six months after the appointment of a substituted fiduciary of the estate of which such funds property or investments were a part and the adjudication of the account of such estate by the competent court

Section 1002 Proof of Claims of Depositors or in Building and Loan Associations Shareholders Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who disagrees with the amount shown by the books or other records of the institution to be due to him shall present his claims to the Secretary by presenting his deposit or pass books or other evidence of indebtednes sto the Secretary within the time and in the manner designated by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act Any such depositor or shareholder who shall not have received or shall have lost his deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness or who shall believe that the amount shown by such deposit or pass book or other evidence of indebtedness due to him is incorrect shall within the time designated by the Secretary present his claim to the Secretary by whatever method he shall designate

Any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder who shall not present his claim within the designated time and in the manner provided by this section shall be bound by the amount appearing to be due to him upon the books or records of the institution or where the name of such depositor or shareholder does not appear at all upon the books or records of the institution or appears on such books or records but with no balance appearing to be due to him by the institution shall be permanently barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the institution However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any depositor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

This section shall not however be construed to deprive any such depositor or shareholder of any right of action at law or in equity which he may have against an employe or former employe of the institution or upon the bond of such employe or former employe for any act committed by such employe which resulted in such depostor's or shareholder's not appearing upon the books of the institution or appearing upon them but being credited with an amount below that actually due

The Secretary shall prescribe the form for the proof of claim of all depositors or in the case of building and loan associations shareholders and for the affidavit to be included therein Whenever requested by any such depositor or shareholder to prepare such proof of claim or to take the affidavit thereto the Secretary shall do so without any charge to such depositor or shareholder

Section 1003 Proof of Claims of Creditors A Creditors other than depositors or in the case of a building and loan association other than shareholders shall not share in any distribution of the assets of the institution unless the creditor or someone for him shall within the time specified by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act present to the Secretary a statement of his claim together with a copy of any book entries pertaining thereto any note or other instrument received as evidence thereof and a list of any collateral or agreement of pledge received in connection therewitn

However the court may upon petition and adequate cause shown permit any creditor to file his claim upon a later date but no claim shall in any event be allowed to be filed after the last day for the filing of exceptions to the first account of the Secretary

The statement of a creditor's claim required by this section shall be verified by affidavit in substantially the following form

"I (name of claimant) do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the above is a true statement of my claim against (name of institution) that there are no credits or allowances against this claim except as therein set forth that there is no collateral security for this indebtedness or any part thereof held by me or by anyone else other than as above set forth and that I am not the owner or the obligee directly or indirectly of any contract of indemnity or insurance covering this claim except as set forth above"

If the creditor shall be a corporation such affidavit shall be made by the treasurer or assistant treasurer thereof and if a partnership by any member thereof In either such case the form of the affidavit shall be modified accordingly

B The provisions of this section shall not apply to the claims of parties interested in the custody possession or control of funds property or investments held by such institution in a fiduciary capacity However except as otherwise provided in this act the provisions of this section shall apply to disputes concerning the identity of such funds property or investments or to claims based upon deficiencies therein or the liability of the institution to surcharge thereon

Section 1004 Allowance of Claims For the purposes of the accounting provided for in this act the Secretary shall allow the claims of depositors or in the case of a building and loan association shareholders for the amounts shown to be due to them upon the books or other records of the institution or for such other amounts as they shall within the time and in the manner provided by this act prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary are due to them He shall likewise allow the claims of all other creditors when presented within the time and in the manner provided by this act if he shall be satisfied that the amounts claimed are rightfully due He shall reject all other claims of depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders

Section 1005 Advance Payments of Dividends to Depositors After the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he may without leave of court and without filing an account make an advance payment of a dividend to all depositors the amounts of whose claims as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution are undisputed The dividend shall be calculated as if the claims of all other depositors as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons who assert priority over or parity with depositors in the order of distribution of the assets were valid and uncontested

However the Secretary shall not make such an advance payment of a dividend to any depositor until he shall set aside an amount sufficient to pay in full the claims of all creditors or other corporations or persons asserting or entitled to priority over depositors in the order of distribution and to pay the proportionate dividend on the amounts claimed by the other depositors and by any creditors or other corporations or persons who are entitled to or who claim parity with depositors in the order of distribution provided for by law He shall likewise set aside before making such advance payment such amount as he shall deem necessary for the expenses of administration of the institution by him as receiver

Section 1006 Expenses of Administration Any reasonable expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver of an institution including any expense incurred in the management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution of the assets and affairs of the institution and any compensation paid to the deputy receiver or any other person employed to assist the Secretary in such management reorganization consolidation liquidation or distribution and to any deputy attorney general special deputy attorney general assistant deputy attorney general or other attorney who has been assigned by the Department of Justice to the Secretary to handle for him any legal business pertaining to the affairs or property of such institution shall be paid out of the assets of the institution provided it is included in any partial or final account filed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act and is approved by the court in which such account is filed

Where such expenses are incurred or such compensation is paid for the benefit of the estate of more than one institution in the possession of the Secretary as receiver an equitable portion of such expenses or compensation shall be paid out of the assets of each institution on whose behalf such expenditures were made

Section 1007 Partial or Final Account Objections A At any time after the expiration of the period fixed by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act for the presentation of claims he shall file a partial or final account of his administration of the business and property of the institution duly verified by him under oath or affirmation in the office of the prothonotary

If the Secretary shall not file his first account within one year after he takes possession of an institution any depositor other creditor or shareholder of such institution may petition the court to order the Secretary to file an account The court may in its discretion grant or refuse the petition

The account shall present his administration of the estate including a statement of all receipts or expenditures by the Secretary as receiver a list of all claims which have been allowed and a separate list of claims which have been objected to or are disputed showing as to all depositors other creditors and in the case of a building and loan association shareholders their names and addresses the amounts due or claimed to be due to them and any priorities in the order of distribution granted to or claimed by them

B The Secretary shall forthwith give written or printed notice of such filing of an account to all corporations or persons whom he knows to be or to claim to be depositors other creditors and in the case of building and loan associations shareholders of the institution at the addresses which respectively appear for ther upon the books of the institution or if none appear there at their last known respective addresses Such notice shall also state that unless an exception to the account or to any item therein is filed with the court within thirty days from the date of the filing thereof it will be confirmed absolutely

He shall likewise give notice to any corporation or person who pursuant to the provisions of this act has given the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody or possession of the Secretary as receiver of the institution

He shall also advertise such notice in a newspaper or newspapers as provided in this act stating the date upon which he has filed his partial or final account and the fact that all exceptions to the account must be filed within thirty days from the date of the filing of such account

The Secretary shall forthwith file with the court under oath affirmation a statement that he has in the manner provided by this act sent both the notice of his determination to liquidate and the notice of his filing of an account to all corporations or persons entitled thereto whose names appear in the account at the addresses stated therein He shall also file the proofs of publication of the advertisements which he has inserted pursuant to the provisions of this act which respectively set forth his determination to liquidate and his filing of an account

C The prothonotary shall not be under any duty to recopy or otherwise record such account He shall make no charge except the regular fee for filing such or similar papers

Section 1008 Exceptions to Account A Any corporation or person who is or who claims to be a depositor other creditor or shareholder of an institution or who has given to the Secretary notice of his claim to the right of execution or attachment against any assets owned by or legally in the custody of the Secretary as receiver of an institution or who asserts any other type of claim against an institution may within thirty days after the filing of an account by the Secretary file in the court specific exceptions in writing under oath or affirmation to such account or to any item therein

Notice of any exception to an individual item in an account shall forthwith be personally served upon or sent by registered mail to the corporation or person whose claim is thus objected to or his counsel and also the Secretary or the deputy receiver managing the affairs of the particular institution or the counsel of either Affidavit of the serving or sending of such notice shall forthwith be filed with the court

B Whenever an exception is filed to any expenditure made by the Secretary as an expense of administration the Secretary shall keep an accurate record of the salaries and other expenses exclusive of counsel fees properly incurred by him in the contesting of such exception If the exception is overruled and the expenditure is sustained the court may in its discretion assess such expenses and salaries together with the regular costs provided by law upon the depositor other creditor or shareholder filing such exception

Section 1009 Adjudication of Rejected Claims and Exceptions to Account A If any claim has been rejected by the Secretary or any exception has been filed to the account or to any item thereof the court shall as soon as expedient after the expiration of the period for the filing of exceptions to the account fix a date for hearing in court arguments on all rejected claims and all exceptions to the account or to any item thereof

The Secretary shall give notice of such hearing to all corporations or persons whose claims have been rejected by the Secretary or objected to in the manner provided by this act He shall likewise give notice to all corporations or persons who have filed exceptions to the account or to any item thereof Such notice shall set forth in so far as possible the reasons for the rejection of the claim or the nature of the exception to the item of the account and shall state that all parties whose claims are rejected or objected to must appear in court upon the date fixed by the court to prove their claims or they will be bound by the ex parte decision of the court

B The court in which the account is filed shall itself hear arguments upon any rejected claim or upon any exception to an account or to any exception to an account or to any item thereof upon the date fixed by it for this purpose The court shall itself decide without delay all matters in controversy If any party does not appear in court on the day fixed the court shall conduct the hearing ex parte and shall render its decision upon the merits as they appear after such hearing

Section 1010 Confirmation of Account Distribution of Dividends A If the Secretary has approved all depositors' claims or in the case of building and loan associations all shareholders' claims as presented by them pursuant to the provisions of this act or if not presented as they appear upon the books or other records of the institution and if no exception has been filed to an account or to any item thereof within thirty days after the filing of such account by the Secretary the court shall confirm the account absolutely If any funds are available for distribution the Secretary shall then declare and pay out of such funds a partial or a final dividend according to the priorities established by law

If the Secretary has rejected any such deposit or claim or if any such exception has been filed the court shall confirm the account as to all other matters and claims The Secretary may then declare and pay out of the funds available for distribution if any a dividend according to the priorities established by law The dividend shall be calculated as if all deposits and other claims were valid and approved The Secretary before paying any such dividend shall set apart the proportion of such dividend which would be properly apportionable to any claim which has been rejected by the Secretary or to which an exception has been filed if the amount and the priority claimed were sustained by the court If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be valid the Secretary shall pay to the corporation or person entitled thereto the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section If any such claim shall be determined by the court to be invalid the dividend which has been set apart in the manner provided by this section shall be distributed in the order of the priorities established by law to those whose claims have been approved by the court

B The confirmation of any account after the adjudication of all claims therein which have been rejected by the Secretary or to which exceptions have been filed and of all other exceptions to such account shall be conclusive as to all matters therein Except as otherwise provided in this act no claim of any depositor or other creditor or in the case of a building and loan association any shareholder shall be valid if not listed and approved in the first account which has been filed

The confirmation of the final account and distribution thereunder shall discharge the Secretary the deputy receiver any other employe and the legal counsel as well as the surety for any of them from all further civil liability for any act done in his official capacity as receiver deputy receiver employe or legal counsel of the institution

Section 1011 Order of Preference in Distribution A The following shall be the order followed by the Secretary in the distribution pursuant to the provisions of this act of the assets of any institution with the exception of a building and loan association which he as receiver is liquidating

First Any expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver which under the provisions of this act is to be paid out of the assets of the institution

Third Any deposit and any interest due thereon which has been or according to the by-laws or rules and regulations of the institution should have been credited to such deposit prior to the date of the taking of possession of the institution by the Secretary as receiver whether subject to withdrawal by check or by any other method not requiring notice or to withdrawal only after notice or after the expiration of a fixed period whether or not such notice has been given or such period has expired at the date of distribution any holder of a certified check drawn on the institution the claim of any holder of a certificate of deposit of the institution which evidences an actual deposit of moneys in such institution and any interest which may be due thereon whether such certificate of deposit is payable upon demand or is payable only after notice or after the expiration of a fixed period whether or not such notice has been given or such period has expired at the date of distribution the claim of any holder of a check or draft of the institution which has been given in exchange for or in payment of a check or draft drawn upon such institution by a depositor therein or which has otherwise been charged to the account of a depositor therein provided that the amount of such check or draft does not exceed the balance to the credit of such depositor or which has been given in exchange for cash or for any check or draft the proceeds of which have been received by the institution any claim for cash or for any check or draft the proceeds of which have been received by the institution which was delivered to the commercial department of such institution as fiduciary either for transmission or for any purpose other than as a deposit irrespective of whether all or part of such cash or the funds realized from such check or draft has been mingled with the assets of such institution

Fourth Any claim for the amount of any deficiency in the funds property or investments of an estate of which the institution was fiduciary or any surcharge with respect to such estate which is found to be done by the court in which the account for such estate is filed and any claim of a creditor of the institution not listed under any other category in this section

Fifth Any part of the amounts paid by shareholders after an assessment upon them by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act which has proved unnecessary to pay in full all depositors or other creditors of the institution such payments are to be made pro rata up to the respective amounts paid by each shareholder This clause shall not be construed to refer to payments made by shareholders on account of unpaid subscriptions to shares

Sixth Any moneys of the institution which still remain in the hands of the Secretary shall be paid to shareholders in proportion to the number of shares held by them respectively minus any amounts still owing by them on the assessment made by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of this act or on unpaid subscriptions to shares

Seventh Any unliquidated assets to trustees for shareholders appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act

B The following shall be the order and preference followed by the Secretary in the distribution pursuant to the provisions of this act of the assets of any building and loan association the affairs of which he as receiver is liquidating

First Any expenditure made by the Secretary as receiver which under the provisions of this act is to be paid out of the assets of the institution

Second Any fee or other debt owing to the Department for examinations or other services rendered or penalties incurred prior to the taking of possession by the Secretary as receiver any other claim of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and any other claim which is given a preference by law

Third Any claim of a creditor of the association other than the claim of a shareholder arising from his ownership of shares

Fourth Any claim of a shareholder arising from his ownership of shares whether such shares be installment full-paid prepaid matured or any other type The amount of the claim arising from each share shall be the amount actually paid in on account of such share less any amount lawfully deductible therefrom by the association except in the case of a lawfully and properly matured share in which case the amount of the claim shall be the actual par value of the share less any payment received on account thereof from the association and less any other amount lawfully deductible therefrom by the association

C Every claim enumerated above shall have the same rank and priority as every other claim in the same numbered paragraph regardless of the order in which such claims are enumerated

D All claims provided for in this section shall be construed to refer only to claims presented to the Secretary and approved by the court in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 1012 Liquidation of Balance by Trustees Except in the case of a building and loan association the Secretary shall dispose in the following manner of any unliquidated assets of an institution of which he was receiver which are still in his possession after the filing and confirmation of his final account the payment in full of the claims of all depositors creditors and other claimants which have been approved by the court the return of shareholders pro rata of any amounts paid by them pursuant to an assessment made by the Secretary under the provisions of this act which have proved unnecessary to pay in full the duly presented and approved claims of depositors and other creditors and the distribution to shareholders of any cash balance remaining thereafter

The Secretary shall call a meeting of all the shareholders of the institution by giving them written notice at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting At such meeting the shareholders shall elect by ballot a trustee or trustees who shall complete the liquidation A majority of the shares present in person or by proxy shall be necessary to elect such trustee or trustees The Secretary shall file one copy of the proceedings of such shareholders' meeting in his office and one in the office of the prothonotary Both copies shall be prepared by him under oath or affirmation

If no trustee is elected in this manner on the day designated the Secretary shall petition the court in which the certificate of possession is filed for the appointment of a trustee or trustees

The trustee or trustees who are thus elected by the shareholders or appointed by the court shall give bond to the Commonwealth in such amount wtih such surety and under such conditions as the court may direct The Secretary shall then transfer to such trustee or trustees all the assets of the institution which are still in his possession

After such transfer by the Secretary to a trustee or trustees for the benefit of the shareholders the institution shall have no corporate powers or privileges whatsoever The trustee or trustees shall not succeed to any of its powers or privileges except such as shall be necessary to the liquidation of the remaining assets which have been transfered to such trustee or trustees by the Secretary

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2311 (Senate Bill No. 973), as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" defining the liability of public or charitable bodies corporations and institutions to pay workmen's compensation to persons injured in work relief employment and to carry insurance therefor and the rights of persons injured in such employment establishing the State Work Relief Compnsation Fund to provide such compensation in certain cases and providing for the administration of such fund by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund and making an appropriation therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That when used in this act the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them by this section unless the context clearly requires a different meaning

(a) The term "work relief employe" shall mean any person engaged in work for any public or charitable body corporation or institution by direction or assignment of the State Emergency Relief Board or a county emergency relief board or other agency of the State Emergency Relief Board in return for cash or commodities furnished by or through the action of the State Emergency Relief Board as unemployment relief

(b) The term "the act to which this is a supplement" shall mean The Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and all supplements and amendments thereto

(c) The term "work relief employer" shall mean any public or charitable body corporation or institution employing any "work relief employe" as defined in sub-section (a) of this section

Section 2 No compensation shall be payable to injured "work relief employes" during the first twenty-six weeks of disability Provided however That this section shall not apply to injuries compensable under sub-sections (c) and (e) of section three hundred and six or section three hundred and seven of the act to which this is a supplement

Section 3 "Work relief employes" as herein defined are hereby declared to be "employes" of "work relief employers" for all purposes of the act to which this is a supplement Any "work relief employer" who shall desire to be relieved of this liability to such "work relief employe" shall pay into the State Treasury the amounts provided in section four of this act Payments to the State Treasurer of such amounts shall relieve the "work relief employer" of all further obligation for compensation to the "work relief employe" or his dependents and from obligation to carry insurance for such compensation and such liability is hereby excluded from policies of insurance covering other types of employment

Section 4 Each "work relief employer" contributing to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund shall pay to it twenty-five cents per week for each "work relief employe" used by such "work relief employer" Provided however That the Insurance Commissioner shall from time to time review the adequacy of this rate and modify it as circumstances require

Section 5 The moneys paid into the State Treasury under the provisions of this act shall be kept in a special fund to be known as the "State Work Relief Compensation Fund" The State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall administer the State Work Relief Compensation Fund and shall determine the amounts due from each "work relief employer" collect the amounts so due transfer them to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund and pay out from such fund the amounts due in accordance with the provisions of this act The moneys of the State Work Relief Compensation Fund are hereby expressly appropriated to the State Workmen's Insurance Fund for the purpose of this act As compensation for administration of the State Work Relief Compensation Fund the State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall receive from the said fund seventeen and one-half per centum of the moneys paid from such fund in each month for workmen's compensation medical surgical hospital services supplies and funeral expenses

Section 6 From the State Work Relief Compensation Fund the State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall pay to injured "work relief employes" and their dependents the benefits and compensation prescribed by the act to which this is a supplement as modified by this act Payments of medical surgical hospital services and supplies and funeral expenses may in the discretion of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund be paid upon certificate of the "work relief employer" as herein defined when accompanied by a certificate from the county emergency relief board or other agency of the State Emergency Relief Board certifying that the injury for which claim is made was sustained in the course of work relief employment Compensation payments to injured "work relief employes" or their dependents shall be made only upon a final award of a workmen's compensation referee or the State Workmen's Compensation Board with or without a hearing The State Workmen's Insurance Fund shall not be liable to make any payments under this act from any moneys except the State Work Relief Compensation Fund

Section 7 There is hereby re-appropriated to the State Work Relief Compensation Fund from the funds appropriated or to be appropriated for the biennium beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three to the State Emergency Relief Board the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars

Section 8 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 9 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 3, page 3, line 29 by inserting after the word "and" and before the word "such" the words: "shall exclude."

Amend section 3, page 4, line 1 by striking out after the word "liability" and before the word "from" the words: "[is hereby excluded]."

Amend section 7, page 5, line 24 by inserting at the end of the line after the word "dollars" the following: "The said sum shall be repaid to the State Emergency Relief Board from the State Work Relief Compensation Fund in such installments and at such times as the Insurance Commissioner shall determine and so much of the moneys in the State Work Relief Compensation Fund as may be necessary are hereby appropriated for that purpose.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2141 (Senate Bill No. 243), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of one million four hundred eighty-five thousand dollars ($1,485,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three for the general maintenance of the University and the purchase of such apparatus and equipment as the trustees may deem necessary for the best interests of the University of Pennsylvania

Section 2 Of the sum appropriated by this act thirty-three and one-third per centum (33 1-3%) shall be abated unless the electors at the municipal election in November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three adopt a certain proposed amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which reads as follows "Section 17 The Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer immediately upon the adoption of this amendment by the electors may borrow an amount not exceeding twenty-five million dollars to defray the expense of the State Government for the biennium beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three provided the General Assembly at its regular session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three has authorized the borrowing of money for this purpose" Provided That all quarterly or other part payments made prior to the date of such municipal election shall be made without deducting the amount of said abatement but in the event that the electors shall at said municipal election vote against the adoption of said constitutional amendment then the total amount of the abatement provided for herein shall be pro rated among and deducted from the remaining payments due under the appropriation made by this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That this Act shall be known as the Corporation Financial Report Act

Section 2 The directors of every business corporation shall cause to be sent or made available to shareholders within three months after the close of its fiscal year a financial report for such fiscal year Such report shall be prepared in conformity with accepted accounting practice in the particular kind of business carried on by the corporation and shall include a balance sheet as of the closing date of the preceding fiscal year a statement of income and profit and loss changes in the surplus or deficit accounts for the year ended on that date and the number of shares issued and outstanding and the stated value thereof

Section 3 Such reports shall be verified by a certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants who are not directors or employees of the corporation and who shall be selected for the ensuing fiscal year by a committee of three shareholders who are not directors or employees Such committee shall be elected at each annual meeting of the shareholders If there are not three shareholders other than the directors or employees able and willing to serve on such committee the accountant shall be selected by the directors

Section 4 The scope and extent of the verification referred to in the preceding sections shall be in accordance with the principles outlined by the Federal Reserve Board of the United States in its publication entitled "Verification of Financial Statement"

Section 5 The financial reports and accompanying certificate of the accountant selected as hereinbefore provided shall be filed within the said three months period in the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs by every domestic and foreign corporation doing business in the Commonwealth together with a filing fee of $5.00 The matter contained in the said reports shall be confidential and except as provided in this act shall not be divulged or used for purpose of taxation Any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or to undergo an imprisonment of not more than six months or both The Secretary shall furnish copies of the reports filed with him only to shareholders of the corporation after verifying the fact that they are such

Section 6 The Secretary of Internal Affairs shall be empowered to grant an extension of the time prescribed for furnishing reports to shareholders and for filing copies thereof with him not exceeding three months upon application by a corporation for such cause as the Secretary may deem sufficient He may also by regulations prescribe the forms upon which the reports shall be furnished permit the filing of consolidated reports and make such other regulations as he may deem proper to carry out the provisions of this act He shall review such reports and may require supplemental information

Section 7 The Court of Common Pleas of the County wherein the corporation has its principal place of business or the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County shall have jurisdiction to require the officers or directors to furnish the reports prescribed in this act upon application by any shareholder

Section 8 Any officer or director who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to furnish such reports as are required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction may be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding six months Any accountant knowingly or wilfully filing or causing to be filed a materially false report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction may be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding six months

Section 9 Any foreign corporation registered to do business in this Commonwealth which shall fail to file such reports prescribed by this act shall have its license to do business in this Commonwealth revoked and shall be liable to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars which penalties shall be imposed thirty days after notice in writing to the said corporation unless the reports shall have then been filed before the expiration of the said time

Section 10 This act shall not be deemed to apply to any corporation under the jurisdiction of the Department of Banking Insurance Department or Public Service Commission of this Commonwealth or Interstate Commerce Commission of the United States Any other corporation desiring to be exempted from the provisions of this act must obtain a waiver signed by shareholders holding not less than sixty per centum of the total capital stock outstanding at the close of the last fiscal year The aforesaid waiver accompanied by a filing fee of five dollars shall be filed with the Secretary of Internal Affairs at or before the time set for the filing of the required report and shall remain in full force until or unless application is made to the Secretary of Internal Affairs in writing by a shareholder of record thereof requesting a copy of the report required under the provisions of this act Thereupon the Secretary of Internal Affairs after verifying that the applicant is a shareholder shall require the corporation to file the prescribed report or in lieu thereof a new waiver as of the end of the last fiscal period

Section 11 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted by the General Assembly had such unconstitutional provisions not been included therein

Section 12 All acts or sections of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1661, as follows:

An Act to amend Section three hundred nine of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by prescribing the method of determining the weekly wages of claimants in certain cases

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Section three hundred nine of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred forty-two) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 309 Wherever in this article the term "wages" is used it shall be construed to mean the money rate at which the service rendered is recompensd under the contract of hiring in force at the time of the accident and shall not include gratuities received from the employer or others nor shall it include amounts deducted by the employer under the contract of hiring for labor furnished or paid for by the employer and necessary for the performance of such contract by the employe but shall include board and lodging received from the employer Whenever the employe receives board and lodging as a part of his wages the board shall be rated at fifty cents per day and board together with lodging shall be rated at one dollar per day for the purpose of computing wages In seasonal occupations the employe's weekly wages shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total wages which he has earned from all occupations during the year immediately preceding the accident unless it be shown that during such year by reason of exceptional causes such method of computation does not ascertain fairly the earnings of the employe in which case the period for calculation shall be extended so far to give a basis for the fair ascertainment of his average weekly earnings In continuous employments if immediately prior to the accident the rate of wages was fixed by the day or hour or by the output of the employe his weekly wages shall be taken to be five and one-half times his average earnings at such rate for a working day and using as a basis of calculation his earnings during so much of the preceding six months as he worked for the same employer Provided however That if the employe regularly and habitually worked more than five and one-half days per week the weekly wage shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for working day by six six and one-half or seven according to the customary number of working days constituting an ordinary week in his occupation or trade And provided further that if the employe regularly and habitually worked less than five and one-half days per week the weekly wage for the purpose of computing compensation during the first eight weeks of disability shall be found by multiplying his average earnings for each working day by the average number of days during each week that said employe actually worked for said employer during the period of eight weeks immediately preceding the date of the accident for which compensation is claimed Where the employe is working under concurrent contracts with two or more employers his wages from all employers shall be considered as if earned from the employer liable for compensation

In cases where the employe has been in the employ of the employer less than one full week and by reason of the shortness of time during which the employe has been in the employment of the employer or the nature or terms of the employment it is impracticable to ascertain the average weekly wages as hereinbfore provided the average weekly amount which during the six months previous to the injury has been earned by other persons employed by the same employer under similar contracts of hiring or if there are no persons so employed by other persons employed by other employers under similar contracts of hiring under similar conditions shall be taken as the basis for the ascertainment of the weekly wages of such employe

Section 2 This act shall become effective upon the date of its final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I read this bill correctly, the purpose is to reduce the compensation of those workers who are employed part time during the depression. In other words, if a worker is working one or two days a week and gets totally disabled or permanently injured his compensation would only be based upon the wages he was earning at the reduced number of days that he was working, which would mean that he would get practically no compensation in many instances or far from adequate compensation over a period of years.

Many of the members of this House hope that this depression is temporary—some possibly doubt whether it is—but regardless of that fact we certainly do not want to put these men who may be injured at a time like this in a position where there compensation will be cut to one-fifth or one-sixth of what it would be if they happen to be lucky enough to be injured in better times.

I ask you to vote down this bill.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 2394, Senate Bill No. 1470, Printer's No. 727 on page 4 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, which was passed over when it was reached in its order.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2394 (Senate Bill No. 1470), entitled:

An Act adjourning country treasurers sales of seated and unseated lands in counties of the fourth class to be held in the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-three until the time fixed by law for such sales in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four or any later date to which such sales may be adjourned and suspending existing laws

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 246

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time the report of the Committee on Conference on Senate Bill No. 246, Printer's No. 712.

The report was read by the clerk as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and the House of Representatives for the purpos of considering Senate Bill No. 246, entitled: "An Act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the County Court of Allegheny County with respect to the care guidance control trial placement and commitment of delinquent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency neglect and dependency of children and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

CHARLES H. EALY,
CHARLES W. STAUDENMEIER,
JOHN S. RICE,
Committee on the part of the Senate

ARNOLD M. BLUMBERG,
PHILIP STERLING,
MAX J. SPANN.
Committee on the part of the House of Representatives

An Act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County with respect to the care guidance control trial placement and commitment of delinquent dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the deliquency neglect and dependency of children and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto

Whereas The welfare of the Commonwealth demands that children should be guarded from association and contact with crime and criminals and the ordinary process of the criminal law does not provide for such care guidance and control as are essential to children in the formative period of life and

Whereas Experience has shown that children lacking proper parental care or guardianship are led into courses of life which may render them liable to the penalties of the criminal law and that the real interests of such children require that they be not incarcerated in jails and penitentiaries as members of the criminal class but be subjected to wise care guidance and control so that evil tendencies may be checked and better instincts be strengthened and

Whereas To these ends it is important that the powers of the courts with respect to the care guidance and control over delinquent neglected and dependent children should be clearly distinguished from those exercised in the ordinary administration of the criminal law therefore

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the members to turn to page 3 of today's calendar. House Bill No. 2384 appears there with no Printer's number. The Chair has been in communication with the Printer and would advise the House that this bill cannot be finally passed by the Senate unless it is passed by the House tonight. Are there objections to passing this bill on second reading at this time? The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

Th House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2384, as follows:

An Act regulating places of stopping of motor bus and other public service passenger transportation lines on the public highways prohibiting public service companies from making charges for the privilege of having its vehicles stop providing for the enforcement of this act by the Public Service Commission and imposing penalties

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every person copartnership association and corporation engaged as a public service company in operating a motor bus line or other passenger transportation line upon the public highways shall designate places along the route of such transportation line where the vehicles of such public service company will stop for the comfort and convenience of its patrons and for the purpose of taking on and discharging passengers Such stops shall be at places equipped to accomodate the needs of passengers and at such distances apart as not to work hardship on travelers

Section 2 Every person copartnership association and corporation operating or maintaining any place designated as a stop shall furnish such conveniences accommodations and services as the particular location and the number of persons carried on the transportation line warrant and demand and no such public service company shall ask demand or receive from any person copartnership association or corporation maintaining or operating any place designated as a stop any payment or other consideration except the reasonable accommodation of its passengers for the privilege of having such vehicles stop at such place

Section 3 Any person copartnership association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred dollars

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall be enforced by the Public Service Commission

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the same courtesy be extended with reference to House Bill No. 1516, appearing on page 1 of today's calendar without a Printer's number.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the reading of this bill for the second time? Are there objections?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is a bill that is introduced at the instance of the people of Pennsylvania, and the principal involved in this bill is whether the manufacturers of Pennsylvania own and control the streams. That is the only principle involved, and I would ask you to vote this motion down.

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not on file. I was anxious that the members of this House might read the bill. I am familiar with the bill, because it was before the Committee on Fisheries and I think the intent of the bill is good, but it is one that ought to be referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, but without the bill being present I cannot provide an opportunity for the members to read the bill.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Center, Mr. Holmes, or any other member object to this bill being read a second time prior to its recommitment? Does the gentleman object?

Mr. JOHN L. HOLMES. No, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The bill can not pass even though it may come out of committee tomorrow.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to reading this bill for the second time? Are there objections?

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no alternative where a member object, but it does believe in all fairness that the gentleman is entitled to the courtesy of having the bill read.

Mr. HEWITT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the objection.

The Chair hearing no objection, consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1516, as follows:

An Act to amend sections two hundred and two hundred two of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" providing additional penalties for killing fish by pollution or explosions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 200 POLLUTION OF WATERS PROHIBITED EXPLOSIVES No person shall put or place in any waters within or on the boundaries of this Commonwealth any electricity explosives or any poisonous substances whatsoever for the purpose of catching injuring or killing fish No person shall allow any substance of any kind or character deleterious destructive or poisonous to fish to be turned into or allowed to run flow wash or be emptied into any waters within this Commonwealth [unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Board of Fish Commissioners or to the proper court that every reasonable and practicable means has been used to abate and prevent the pollution of waters in question by the escape of deleterious substances]

Section 2 That section two hundred two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 202 PENALTY Any person violating the preceding provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction [as provided in chapter fourteen of this act] shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and if more than ten fish are killed as the result of such violation then the penalty shall be ten dollars for each fish killed and in the discretion of the court such person or the member of any partnership or association or the officer of the corporation responsible for such violation may be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2010.

An Act establishing courts of record in second class counties for control care and treatment of delinquent neglected and dependent children under eighteen years of age defining their jurisdiction powers and duties and regulating procedure therein providing for the transfer of certain powers functions and duties from other courts and reducing the number of judges of the county court providing for the appointment of the first judge of the childrens court by the Governor and the election of judges thereafter the appointment of referees probation officers other necessary staff officials and assistants providing for housing of same and providing for detention facilities

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 1, by striking out after the word "Establishing' the words "courts" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "a court"; also by striking out after the word "in" the word "second class counties" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "the county of Allegheny"; also in line 2, by striking out after the word "care" the word "and" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "guidance"; also by inserting after the word "treatment" the words "trial placement and commitment"; also in line 3, by striking out after the word "under" the word "eighteen"; also by inserting after the word "aid" the words "and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging delinquency neglect or dependency of children"; also in line 4 by striking out at the beginning of said line the word "their" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "the"; also by inserting after the word "jurisdiction" the word "and"; also by striking out after the word "powers" the words "and duties" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "of the courts"; also in line 5, by inserting after the word "transfer" the word "thereto"; also in line 6 by striking out after the word "courts" the words "and reducing the number of judges of the county court"; also in line 8 by striking out after the word "the" the words "appointment of the first judge of the children's court by the Governor and the"; also in line 10 by striking out after the word "judges" the word "thereafter" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "thereof"; also in line 11 by striking out after the word "of" the word "referees"; also in line 13 by inserting after the word "facilities" the words "making the contributing to or encouraging of the delinquency neglect or dependency of children a misdemeanor and providing penalties."

Amend bill by striking out the preamble on pages 1, 2 and 3 as follows: "intervene to safeguard them from neglect or injury and to enforce the legal obligations due to them and from them and criminals and the ordinary process of the criminal law does not provide such treatment and care and

Whereas Experience has shown that children lacking proper parental care or guardianship are led into courses of life which may render them liable to the pains and penalties of the criminal law although in fact the real interest of such child or children requires that they be not incarcerated in penitentiary and jail as members of the criminal class and

Whereas It is important that the powers of the court in respect to the care treatment education and control of delinquent neglected and dependent children should be clearly distinguished from the powers exercised in the administration of the criminal law that those powers be such as may secure for each child under its jurisdiction such care guidance education and control preferably in his own home as will conduce to the child's welfare and the best interests of the State and when such child is removed from his own family to secure for him custody care education and discipline as nearly as possible equivalent to that which should have been given by his parents and that such powers be established in recognition of the principle that children under the jurisdiction of the court are wards of the State subject to the discipline and entitled to the protection of the State which may intervene to safeguard them from neglect or injury and to enforce the legal obligations due to them and from them and

"Whereas In the more populous districts where the number of delinquent neglected and dependent children is large their interests can best be safeguarded and the public welfare more adequately promoted through a court that is presided over by a judge who is chosen for that particular position because of peculiar qualifications and who may in security serve in such capacity over a period of years therefore

Amend Article I, page 3, by inserting the following new paragraphs after the Roman numeral "I":

"DEFINITIONS

Section 1 DEGINITIONS 1 Whenever the words "the court" are used in this act they shall refer to the juvenile court established by this act the term "judge" shall refer to the judge of that court the word "child" shall mean a person less than sixteen years of age the word "adult" shall mean a person sixteen years of age or over and the words "child" or "children" may be held to mean one or more children and the words "parent" or "parents" may be held to mean one or more parents when consistent with the intent of this act

"2 The words 'delinquent child' shall mean a child (a) who violates any law of the State or any ordinance or regulation of any subdivision thereof or (b) who is habitually disobedient or beyond the control of his parents or other lawful authority or (c) who so deports himself as to injure or endanger the morals health or general welfare of himself or others

"3 The words 'neglected child' shall mean a child (a) who is abandoned by his parents guardian or custodian or (b) who is without proper parental care or guardianship or (c) whose parent guardian or custodian neglects or refuses to provide necessary food clothing shelter medical surgical or other care necessary for the health morals or well-being of such child or (d) who is found in any disreputable place or who associates with vagrant vicious or immoral persons or (e) who is in a condition or who engages in an occupation dangerous to the life or limb or injurious to the health morals or general welfare of himself or others

"4 The words 'dependent child' shall mean a child (a) who is homeless or destitute or dependent on the public for support or (b) who is without a parent or guardian able to provide for his support training and education or (c) who is otherwise in need of personal guardianship

"5 wherever personal pronouns are used they shall mean male and female."

Legislative Journal.

Session 1933 — 130th of the General Assembly

Vol. 15 — HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MAY 4, 1933 — No. 61

SENATE

THURSDAY, May 4, 1933.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we beseech Thee that Thou wouldst bless us this beautiful morning, and with us bless all those in whose lives we are interested. Grant that in these days of springtime and of flowers the little children of this state, the little children in our own homes, those in whose lives we are interested, may have the joy and the happiness of childhood, and that we may do as individuals everything to make childhood in the springtime happy and blessed, so that these little ones may have pleasant memories in the days when they have to fight the battle of life; and make us all in the battles of life to be as children even in the struggles that we have to meet. Be with us and bless us all this day. In Christ's Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BOYD, the further reading was dispenssed with, and the Journal was approved.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the bill now before us for concurrence in the amendments made by the House is known as the Banking Code. As I understand the proposition, the House inserted amendments placing under the control of the Secretary of Banking the private banks of the State. It is all very well for the sponsor of the bill to say that they are not satisfactory to him, but there are forty-nine other Senators here in this body who have a vote on that proposition; and, without going into detailed arguments why these amendments should be concurred in, I, for one, feel that we should concur in the House amendments and that we should place the private banks of the State under the Department of Banking the same as any other banks.

I do not know of any good reason why the private banks of this State should not be subject to the same regulations as the corporate banks of the State. In a good many cases they receive poor people's deposits. It is true there are some very big interests who are private bankers. Maybe that is the reason some people think they should not be under the Department of Banking, but I submit that we should have the same laws for the rich as we have for the poor. No reason, to my mind, has been advanced which would justify leaving the large bankers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh who are private bankers out from under the laws and the control and the inspection of the Department of Banking; and I earnestly ask that when the roll is called on this subject the Senate will vote for concurrence in the amendments made by the House.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, in response to the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, the Banking Committee of this Senate and your chairman have spent a good many weeks on these bills, together with bankers and lawyers, members of the Department of Banking, the Secretary of the Department of Banking, the Attorney General and other attorneys. Mr. Buckman is not familiar with the amendments that have been put in in the House, nor am I familiar with all of the amendments that they have put in; but I say this in all sincerity, that I hope the members of this Senate will vote with its Banking Committee and not concur in these amendments, and give us an opportunity to put through some banking legislation that is going to be constructive. We cannot take hold of the situation at a time like this and upset it at a point where we are going to legislate certain individuals and corporations and businesses out of existence. If all the radical legislation that was proposed in this Senate would be passed, we would be what Senator Grundy so ably said, "one of the backward states."

I feel that the members of this Senate should, and will, refuse to concur in these amendments, and back up their Committee on Banking. Incidentally, Senator Buckman is not even a member of that committee, and does not realize the work we have put in on this.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senator who is chairman of the Committee on Banking remarked that the way the bill left the Senate was according to the wishes of the bankers, especially the private bankers. That is exactly my objection to his bill, and that is the reason I am in favor of restoring the bill to its pristine justice and beauty.

The bankers, especially the private bankers, have been a little too polite to the chairman and the Committee on Banking; and while I have attended their dinner parties in the past, I have no doubt I will not be invited in the future if I do not vote to sustain these amendments.

Two points I want to make: In the first place, it seems to me "private banking" is a contradiction of terms. You might as well talk about a private "public school." Banking is not a private business any more than is insurance, and inasmuch as the private bankers have a very fine record is no reason why they should not be handled the same as anyone else. In the second place, about those affiliates,—it is a beautiful word, but I think we all understand it now; and I think we all know that many of the people who lost money lost it through the affiliate where the money was spent in a side issue and speculated with and lost.

The third argument is, if and when the Carter-Glass Bill passes, in Washington, it will take care of the affiliates; but that depends on "if and when"—a very uncertain quantity. The President has his Economic Conference claiming his attention, and he has not the time for the Carter-Glass Bill; and therefore we are hanging that bill up on the false pretense of "if and when."

I therefore hope we shall sustain these amendments which are endorsed by the Department of Banking, and are absolutely fair.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I would like to know if he considers that the banking bill in its present form countenances the affiliates.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, my understanding is that these amendments restore the banking code to the way it started out, but divorces the affiliates from commercial banking; and anybody knows that that is the right thing to do. I certainly hope we do not depend on an "if and when" proposition such as the Carter-Glass bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with much pleasure.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, if it is not one of the traditions of the Senate that, when a Senator who is the sponsor of a bill asks that the Senate disagree with the House as to amendments made by the House to a Senate Bill, the Senate follows his wishes?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not so understand. I never have so understood it. I do not think it is a tradition of the Senate that the Senate should vote to concur or nonconcur against its own best judgment. I do not hesitate to say that I believe it is the duty of the Senators to vote according to their own convictions and what they believe to be the wishes of their constituents. I have never known, nor has it ever been suggested to me, that Senatorial courtesy has ever gone so far as to require a Senator to vote against his own convictions in order to sustain or not sustain the wishes of the sponsor of a bill.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I do not want to take up the time of the Senate, but I do think it strange that Senator Buckman should place more confidence in the judgment of the members of the House than he does in that of the members of his own committee. He is not familiar with the amendments put in over there, nor am I. And for him to ask that we concur in those amendments when we do not know what they are —I do not mean it to be disrespectful—I do not think it should be requested.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to say to the Senate that nobody in the Senate has worked harder on this bill than has the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni. I want to say, with equal frankness, that Senator Sordoni and I have differed on the question of these amendments from the very start; and I think in order intelligently to discuss the question we ought to know just what those amendments are.

I happen to know what they are; and I happen to know that the bill which Senator Sordoni sponsored, as I think we all know, is a bill prepared by the Department of Banking and the Attorney General's office as a result of years of experience with banks, and that originally the bill, when sponsored by Senator Sordoni, contained the provisions which are embodied in these amendments, and was in the very form in which it now comes to us from the House.

These amendments result from the fact that, when the bill was first prepared and before it was submitted finally in its present form to this Senate, there were meetings held with all parties in interest—as there were with regard to the Building and Loan Code—and there were agreements arrived at on various sections between the parties in interest and the Department of Banking; but there was a definite disagreement between the bankers of the State and the Department of Banking and the banking committees of the Senate and House on the question of whether or not private banks should be brought into the bill and placed under the supervision of the Department of Banking, and whether there should be regulation and supervision by the Department of Banking over the so-called affiliates.

In the main those are the amendments which are under discussion now. In the first place, when the committees met and had these hearings a majority of the members of the committees proposed that the suggestion made by the bankers to eliminate private banks from the supervision of the Department of Banking should be adopted; and on the question of affiliates the bankers inserted a provision that the examination and rules and regulations of the Department of Banking as to affiliates should be in conformity with any act which now exists or may hereafter be passed by the Federal Government relating to national banks; so that if the Federal Government passs no law regulating affiliates the State of Pennsylvania will have no supervision over affiliates, and will not be able to control the amount of money which may be loaned to affiliates.

With regard to private banking, the situation now is, as the committee recommended the bill, that not only does the Department of Banking not have supervision over the private banks, but the Department must issue a certificate of good health, called under the Banking Act as presented by the committee a "certificate of exemption"; so that when a private bank not under the supervision of the Department of Banking exists, it does business with a certificate signed by the Secretary of Banking setting forth that "This bank is exempt from examination by the Department of Banking"; so that anyone going into a private bank and seeing that certificate would have a right to believe that that bank is so good it does not require any supervision on the part of the banking department.

My objection to the action of the committee in reporting the bill out in the form in which it was passed by the Senate is that if banking is a public proposition—and, as Senator Woodward so aptly said, there is no such thing as "private banking" any more than there is a "private public school"—our experience, if we read the papers, should teach us that private banks require as much supervision as any other banks, especially when we read that the largest private bank in the City and State of New York is now being examined and has been called upon to produce its records and papers in the Senate of the United States, and all due to the fact that the banking situation has gotten to the point where everybody looks with suspicion on a corporation or individual or group of individuals that seek to keep secret their transactions that affect the security of the people's money; and, if incorporated banks should be examined, I see no reason why the others should not.

Another important proposition is that of the amount of money a bank may loan any particular individual. The provision of the act as suggested by the banking department and the Attorney General's office was that no more than 10% of the capital and surplus of any particular bank should be loaned to any individual. The bankers objected to that, and inserted the provision that it may be 25% of the capital and surplus; in other words, that the bank may loan to four people the total amount of its capital and surplus. As I say, that amendment was inserted at the suggestion of the bankers, and because they thought 10% was not enough.

There is a further peculiar proposition, to the effect that a person who owns 51% of the stock of a particular corporation shall be considered as the person to whom the money is loaned, and if he is a director of the corporation that particular loan shal be charged up against him. So, in putting the limit of 10% or 25% on loans to individuals—whatever percentage we adopt—such a loan to such a company will be included in the percentage allowed to that director.

All those provisions were put in by the Banking Department and the Attorney General because of their experience in past years. The only question before this Senate now is whether or not we should decide, in banking matters, that there is a class of banks which is holier than all others and should not be touched by anyone, and should not be obliged to make a certain report or be examined by any officer of the State, but may take in the money of the public without any protection of the public's interests.

If we do not concur in these amendments we will be voting in favor of allowing private banks to be eliminated from control of any kind. If we concur we will be providing that all banks, private or otherwise, shall be under the supervision of the Banking Department; so that at least sometime the Banking Department may examine into and take possession, if necessary, of those banks for the protection of the depositors.

If we vote for concurrence we will provide that affiliates of banking institutions borrowing large sums of money from these institutions shall be under the control and supervision of the banking department.

And if we vote further to concur we will have provided that no banking institution shall loan more than 10% of its capital and surplus to any individual; so that, instead of four individuals being able to borrow up to the full amount of the capital and surplus of the bank, it will take at least ten.

I want to say, in fairness to the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, that he has faced a hard problem in trying to harmonize the conflicting viewpoints; but I also want to say, in fairness to myself, that if we are to pass any effective law to protect depositors and banks we should vote for these provisions.

Mr FAY. Mr. President, I would like to ask if all of the amendments presented this morning are incorporated in the bill that is on the desk? I think we ought to know what the amendments are that we are voting on.

The PRESIDENT. The file of the Senate number 446, Printer's number 709, as amended on second reading in the House of Representatives May 1st.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information as to whether we are voting on concurrence or on a motion of Senator Sordoni to non-concur.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I submit that we are voting on concurrence or non-concurrence.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, may I interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, whether the House amended this bill to prohibit branch banks? Is that one of the amendments we are asked to nonconcur in?

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, I am not familiar with all the amendments the House put in, and that is why I do not agree to concur in them and want a Conference Committee appointed.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, if the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, is not familiar with what is in this bill, that is his hard luck. He ought to be familiar. I see no reason why this Senate should send a bill to a committee of conference because some Senator has not had time or opportunity or inclination to make a thorough study of the bill before him. He is a Senator here, and he ought to be on the job.

Mr. SORDONI. Mr. President, that is all right. I stand corrected on a technicality. But Senator Salus knows as well as I the intent of my remarks; that is, that there are some provisions in here that I am not familiar with, and neither is he, Senator Buckman or anyone else.

I wish the Chair would make it clear as to how the vote on this would be.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Sordoni, I want to say to the members of the Senate that Senator Shapiro and myself took the trouble last night to work out this thing. Possibly we cut out a moving picture show or something, but we were on the job.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on concurrence in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 446. The amendments are unsatisfactory to the sponsor of the bill, Senator Sordoni.

On this question the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, may I suggest that the Senators who vote "aye" will vote for concurrence in the amendments, and Senators voting "no" will vote to non-concur in the amendments made by the House.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 315 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 315, entitled:

An Act relating to the powers and duties of the Department of Banking and the Secretary of Banking in exercising supervision over, and taking possession of and conducting or liquidating the business and property of, corporations, associations, and persons receiving deposits or otherwise transacting a banking business, corporations acting as fiduciaries, and building and loan associations; providing for the payment of the expenses of the Department of Banking by supervised corporations, associations, or persons and appropriating the Banking Department Fund; authorizing the department of Banking, under certain circumstances, to examine corporations, associations, or person affiliated, or having business transactions, with supervised corporations, associations or persons; authorizing appeals to the supreme court and prescribing and limiting the powers and duties of certain other courts and their prothonotaries, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, and certain State department, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services rendered under this act; providing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 446

The PRESIDENT. In announcing the vote on the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 446 the Chair made an error in announcing that a majority voted for concurrence. It requires a constitutional majority of twenty-six votes.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll. The matter has been opened by the Chair, and I will ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his point of order.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, a final vote was taken, the roll call was announced by the President, and it is too late to verify the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, is well taken.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate reconsider the vote on concurrence in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 446.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, will you kindly state what an "aye" vote is and what a "no" vote is.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate now is on the concurrence in the amendments made by the House to Senate Bill No. 446. To vote "aye" votes for concurrence in the amendments; to vote "no" is to vote against concurring in the amendments.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE BILL No. 559 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 559, entitled:

An Act to amend section one thousand nine hundred and six of the act approved the twenty-third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred thirty-two) entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" providing that in awarding certain contracts for the erection construction and alteration of public buildings separate bids and shall be received for the structural steel work with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Said amendments having been printed as required by the Constitution, were twice read as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 12 by striking out after the word "steel" the following: "and ornamental iron"

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the following resolution:

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That this Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, Friday, May 5, 1933, at twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SALUS, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, the following resolution:

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM COMMITTEE

In the Senate, April 8, 1933.

Whereas, The work of the Legislature is always delayed at the beginning of each session by reason of the absence of any definite program or tentative plan of legislation to be considered at such session; and

Whereas, The work of every session of this Legislature would be curtailed, its length shortened and the public business greatly expedited if such plan or program could be presented to the members when the session convened; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That five members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and seven members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker of the House, are hereby constituted a Legislative Program Committee whose duty shall be to meet at least sixty days before the convening of the regular session next following their appointment, or at least thirty days prior to each special session during their continuance in office, and agree upon and submit to such regular or special session immediately after it convenes a tentative plan of legislation to be considered; and be it

Resolved, That such Legislative Program Committee shall accompany the plan agreed upon with drafts of bills intended to best carry into effect such program; and be it

Resolved, That whenever possible preliminary reports and copies of bills shall be forwarded to members of the Senate and House of Representatives before the convening of the session for the purpose of giving them opportunity to study the same; and be it further

Resolved, That necessary expenses of the members of the Committee and the cost of the preparation and distribution of its reports and copies of preliminary bills shall be provided for by an item to be inserted in the General Apropriation Bill.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be laid on the table.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I object to the resolution being laid on the table, and ask for its immediate consideration; and, if I am in order, I would like to explain the purpose of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will proceed.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, we have assembled here, not only in this session, but every session that we come here, and all we know is that we come to Harrisburg. We register at a hotel, and we report. The members are sworn in. This session was a little bit different from most sessions. We usually then adjourn and go away for possibly ten or fifteen days, and then organize a program of what should be the proper legislative proceeding during that session. My experience has been that we just litter ourselves up in Harrisburg here at least six weeks before we can start. That six weeks means an enormous expense. It means not only expense to the Commonwealth, but it is an expense and delay to all the members of both the Senate and the House. If we came here with a set program, while that program might not be fully followed, yet from the structure of that program we would be immediately able to go to work and come to some conculsion as to what ought to be done. I have tried on a number of occasions to have such a resolution as this passed finally in this session. The members of the Appropriation Committee, to which this resolution was referred, have come to the conclusion that possibly this was a step forward. It is an excellent opportunity for us to try to accomplish what we started out to accomplish in as little time as possible and with as little expense as possible, and at the same time give results to not only the entire State, but results to our own constitutents.

and place us in a position where we would not be criticized particularly by the newspapers. It is my recollection that during this entire session of the Legislature the newspapers all over the State of Pennsylvania have unfairly criticized all the members of this Legislature for their inaction. That inaction was due to the fact that we had neither program, plan or thought as to what we ought to do or what we intended to do; and I think, if the members of this Senate will pass this resolution and the House will concur, that we will in the future not be subject to the unfair criticism that we have received at the hands of the newspapers. It is unfair on the part of the newspapers, because they do not seem to understand that we are handicapped by the fact that we have no definite program. I do not want to charge the newspapers with any malice or anything like that when they had a chance to goad us on and make us work; and probably if we pass this resolution the newspapers may feel more kindly disposed toward us and probably not so unkindly disposed toward us, because we will be taking away the opportunity of their jabbing us in the back. I will still be on good terms with the newspapers, and if we do get a little intelligent comment from them, that they will agree with us—and I think they will in the final analysis—that this is good legislation. There is no politics in this. I do not advocate it for any particular faction, I advocate it for the general good of Pennsylvania; and I hope that those who have any factional feelings in the matter will be able to put them out of their minds before they get beyond them, and take them to the cemetery and bury them for the time being.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, will withdraw his motion to lay this resolution on the table, I will object to its immediate consideration, and I think that will settle the matter.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I will withdraw the motion.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I withdraw my seconding of the motion and I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution, and it lies over.

RECONSIDERATION OF FINAL ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the final adjournment resolution was adopted.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 987

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCOTT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 987, Printer's No. 658, entitled "An act relating to unemployment relief making an appropriation to the State Emergency Relief Board for direct relief and work relief prescribing the powers and duties of the board with reference thereto and conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain State departments," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 322

Mr. HARVEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HARVEY offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 322, Printer's No. 233, entitled "An act to eliminate reckless and irresponsible drivers from the public highways and to protect the safety of users of the public highways by providing in certain cases for the suspension and revocation of operator's licenses and privileges (whether resident or non-resident) and for the establishment of ability to respond in damages for injury to property and persons including injuries resulting in death caused by the use or operation of motor vehicles (including unlicensed operators and unregistered motor vehicles) conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Insurance Commissioner insurance carriers and clerks of the courts requiring certain provisions in motor vehicle liability insurance policies and providing penalties" be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

COMMITTEE TO REVISE SENATE RULES

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELDER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate May 4, 1933.

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore appoint a committee of three members of the Senate, whose duty it shall be to draft a revision of the Rules of the Senate and report thereon to the regular session of the Senate in 1935;

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate act as the secretary of the committee appointed pursuant to this resolution.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended the following resolution:

FINAL ADJOURNMENT

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That this Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die [Thursday, April 13, 1933] Friday, May 5, 1933, at twelve o'clock noon.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just reported from the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to

Ordered, That said resolution be returned to the House of Representatives with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise for the purpose of stating what I want the records to show, that I voted "no" on the question to adjourn sine die. It is my opinion that this legislative session has not completed its job. I believe that there should be a recess taken. As I view the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the laws of Pennsylvania, it is the duty of the Legislature to review vetoes which may be made by the Governor. There are also many other questions still pending before this Assembly, of great moment to the people of this Commonwealth; and therefore it is my opinion that this motion for adjournment should not have been made and carried.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL No. 92

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, May 4, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 92, entitled:

An Act permitting fishing on Sunday with one rod and two hooks and fixing penalties be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1384 (House Bill No. 1637), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Forests and Waters for the maintenance and improvement of State Hemlocks Park

Also from the Committee on Judiciary General, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1445 (House Bill No. 1767), entitled:

An Act authorizing plaintiffs in actions on written instruments to join as defendants persons severally jointly or severally or jointly and severally liable thereon and regulating the effect thereof and the procedure in such actions.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. NORTON, from the Committee on Legislative Apportionment, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 916 (House Bill No. 1872), entitled:

An Act to amend that portion of section one relating to Luzerne County of the act approved the tenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 455), entitled "An act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution" re-arranging the legislative districts in Luzerne County.

Also from the Committee on Legislative Apportionment, reported as committed, amended, Senate Bill No. 1448 (House Bill No. 2324) entitled:

An Act to amend part of section one of the act, approved the tenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 455), entitled "An act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State, and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution," by changing certain representative districts in Allegheny County and increasing the number of Representatives allowed such county.

Also from the Committee on Legislative Apportionment, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 912 (House Bill No. 1565), entitled:

An Act to amend that portion of section one relating to Lehigh County of the act, approved the tenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 455), entitled "An act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution" rearranging the legislative districts in Lehigh County.

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KRAUSE, from the Committee on Federal Relations, reported as committed, the following resolution:

In the House of Representatives, May 1, 1933.

Whereas Under the new administration of the Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt there will eventually be undertaken the working out of a ship-builidng program for the United States Navy and

Whereas In the past the banks of the Delaware River have been noted as the greatest ship-building center in the United States and

Whereas The port of Philadelphia includes the Philadelphia Navy Yard and the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company and

Whereas The William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company in the past turned out all kinds of ships from large passenger and merchant ships to battle ships cruisers gunboats and destroyers and

Whereas According to the Philadelphia Inquirer of October eleventh one thousand nine hundred and seventeen the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company was one of the six ship yards authorized by the United States government to help carry out the War Department's program of building seven hundred and eighty-seven vessels of all types and

Whereas In the course of this project the William Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company employed six thousand five hundred men with additional employes added as the construction increased and

Whereas The strategic location of the city of Philadelphia to both the coal and iron mines and the steel mills of Pennsylvania by rail and its easy accessibility to the sea by the Delaware River makes this city the most accessible and the most logical place for industry of this type and

Whereas Due to the slowing down of this the greatest of Philadelphia's industries many people have been thrown out of employment and

Whereas The United States Navy Department is contemplating increasing the strength of the Navy and it would be in keeping with the past record of construction of Philadelphia that many of the vessels which will be constructed in the naval program should be constructed in that port thereby giving employment to thousands of skilled mechanics of that industry and improving conditions to others by increasing employment and adding to the buying power of the citizens of Philadelphia therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urge the Navy Department of the United States to select the port of Philadelphia for the construction of the major part of its new program

Resolved That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk to the Secretary of the Navy of the United States

Mr. KRAUSE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 77, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act to require all magistrates and other officials in cities of the first second and third class authorized to take acknowledgments and administer oaths to perform such service free of charge for soldiers and widows of soldiers when making affidavit to papers for the purpose of drawing pensions" extending the provisions of the act to all magistrates aldermen justices of the peace or other persons authorized to take acknowledgments and administer oaths and to papers other than those connected with pensions

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred forty-eight) entitled "An act to require all magistrates and other officials in cities of the first second and third class authorized to take acknowledgments and administer oaths to perform such service free of charge for soldiers and widows of soldiers when making affidavit to papers for the purpose of drawing pensions" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter it shall be the duty of any magistrate alderman justice of the peace or any other person authorized to take acknowledgments and administer oaths to perform such service for any soldier widow or orphan of a soldier or soldier's parents who may apply to them for the purpose of making affidavit to papers for the purpose of obtaining pensions and all other papers connected with and referring to the military service of any ex-service person free of charge therefor [Provided That the provisions of this act shall only apply to magistrates aldermen justices of the peace or other persons authorized to take acknowledgments in cities of the first second and third class]

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 183, on final passage, recalled from the Governor, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as amended by further regulating the affairs of counties and imposing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MANSFIELD. Mr. President, this bill contains the amendments to the county code. If there is anything wrong with it it ought to be settled here on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Coyne, will state his point of order.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, a motion to recommit is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that I would like to know what the bill is about, without discussing the merits of the bill, in order that I may intelligently vote on the motion to recommit the bill. I submit it is proper for either Mr. Coyne or Mr. Mansfield to tell us what it is about.

Mr. COYNE. Mr. President, this motion will give him two years time to find out.

The PRESIDENT. The motion to recommit is debatable only on the question of the motion, not on the merits of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for twenty Senators voted in the affirmative and seven in the negative.

Whereupon, the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 210, as follows:

An Act fixing the compensation of assessors and registry or assistant assessors performing duties pertaining to the assessment and registration of voters in counties other than first and second class and repealing existing acts relating thereto

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in counties other than counties of the first and second class the assessors and assistant or registry assessor performing duties pertaining to the assessment and registration of voters shall receive as full compensation for such duties the sum of ten cents for each person assessed by them and entered on the registry list but the amount of such compensation to be paid to any assessor or assistant or registry assessor for any assessment period shall not exceed the amount he would receive if he were paid three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) per day for each day actually employed in the performance of such duties In addition to the compensation above provided they shall receive the sum of three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) per day for the special sittings at the polling places before elections and primaries as provided by law
